

- | | | |
|----|--|---|
| 39 | You are always quarrelling because you cannot see anyone else's point of view. | |
| | A B C D | X |
| 40 | Each of you is so sure you are right and everyone else is wrong. The blind men only felt one part of the elephant. | |
| | A B C | X |
| | D | |
| 41 | They didn't bother to feel all of it. You only see one side of an argument. | |
| | A B C D | X |
| 42 | You never bother to look at it from all sides and, until you do, you will never understand anything properly." | |
| | A B C | X |
| | D | |

From A Buddhist Tale retold by John Jackman

In this extract, the letter below the best word or words needs to be chosen, so the extract makes sense and uses correct English. Mark your answer in your answer booklet.

- 43 The flower-bed was not quiet nearly almost quite quietly bare.
A B C D E
- 44 It was bare of flowers because the perennial plants were never were to be had been was been had to be cut down for their winter rest.
D E
- 45 but their was there is their were there was there were tall shrubs and low ones which grew together at the back of the bed.
A B C D E
- 46 and as the robin hopped hops hoped hopping hoping about under them she saw him hop over a small pile of freshly turned-up earth.
A B C D E
- He stopped on it to look for a worm. The earth had been turned up because a dog had been trying to dig up a mole and he had scratched quite a deep hole.*
- 47 Mary looked at it, not really thought knowing knew now thinks why the hole was there.
A B C D E
- 48 and as she looking looked seen looks glancing saw something almost buried in the newly-turned soil. It was something like a ring of rusty iron or brass.
A B C D E
- 49 and when the robin flew up into a tree near by near to close to nearly closely she put out her hand and picked the ring up.
A B C D E
- 50 It was more than a ring, whenever however probably usually sometimes; it was an old key which looked as if it had been buried a long time.
A B C D E

From The Secret Garden by Frances Hodgson Burnett