This paper will test your ability to:

- record observations, experiences, ideas, information and/or insights;
- analyse and evaluate sources, such as images, objects, artefacts and texts;
- develop ideas using appropriate materials and techniques, making clear your future intentions;
- present a personal response, relating your work to that of other artists, designers or craftspeople.

The questions below should be seen as starting points for personal investigations in which you make reference to critical and contextual material with which you are familiar.

Answer one question.

1 Structures

Structures can be both natural and manufactured. They can be strong or fragile, large or small, complex or simple. Some structures can be constructed as part of special events, others might be used to enclose or to protect. Produce work based on structures, making reference to appropriate contextual materials.

2 The Effects of Weather and Light

The effects of weather and the changing qualities of light, in both rural and urban settings, have provided a significant source of study for many artists in the past and in more recent times. Develop work based on this idea, making reference to appropriate examples.

3 The Facial Image

The facial image has provided a rich source of inspiration for artists from different cultures. These images reflect the values and traditions of the culture in which they were produced. Research examples and produce your own work in two or three dimensions based on the facial image.

4 Rooms

Rooms can have personalities. They reflect the interests and lifestyles of the people who use them. Produce work based on a room, or part of a room, with which you are familiar. This might be a private space, such as your bedroom, or a public space such as the art studio. Your work should include reference to the work of other artists.

5 Homelessness

Many artists have been interested in the plight of the homeless and dispossessed. Their work reflects their values and concerns. Develop work based on this theme, making reference to related critical/contextual materials.
