

Answer one question from Section A and one question from Section B

You should write between 600 and 900 words for each composition.

Section A: Narrative/Descriptive/Imaginative Writing

- 1 Write a short story called The Unexpected Visit. In your writing create a mood of tension and suspense.
- 2 Write a descriptive piece called The Bargain Store. In your writing create a detailed sense of people and setting.
- 3 'A tunnel lay open before them: there was only one way they could go now ...'

Continue the opening to this story (although you do not have to write a complete story). In your writing create a sense of a mysterious future.
- 4 Write the thoughts and memories of a narrator who recalls the most exciting time in her or his life. In your writing create a sense of character and place.

Section B: Discursive/Argumentative Writing

- 5 'Helping someone to end their life should not be allowed in any circumstances.' What do you think – and why?
- 6 In response to an article in a national newspaper, two readers write letters to the editor. One letter argues that your country needs to invest more in education. The other letter argues that there are more urgent priorities. Write both letters (between 300–450 words each).
- 7 'All governments are corrupt in some way or other.' Do you agree?
- 8 Write a magazine article called 'You Are Not Invited'. In it you name the three famous people (alive or dead) you would never wish to meet – and give the reasons why.

Permission to reproduce items where third-party owned material protected by copyright is included has been sought and cleared where possible. Every reasonable effort has been made by the publisher (UCLES) to trace copyright holders, but if any items requiring clearance have unwittingly been included, the publisher will be pleased to make amends at the earliest possible opportunity.

University of Cambridge International Examinations is part of the Cambridge Assessment Group. Cambridge Assessment is the brand name of University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate (UCLES), which is itself a department of the University of Cambridge.