General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

GCE AS LEVEL GERMAN LISTENING, READING AND TRANSLATION 8GN0/01 2018

Marking principles – Sections A and B

Candidate responses

- For open response questions, the candidate does not have to write in full sentences. If appropriate, they may respond using single words or phrases.
- The candidate may use words from the listening passage or reading extract if these words constitute a direct answer to the question.
- Errors and omissions in spelling and grammar are tolerated as long as the message is unambiguous.
- Consider only as many elements as there are marks. For example, where a candidate has offered more than 1 element for a 1 mark question, examiners only consider the first element. This is referred to as the order of elements.
- Where 2 or more marks are available, award the individual marks discretely but apply the order of elements rule to each.
- Responses written in the wrong language cannot be awarded a mark.

Guidance to examiners on understanding and applying the mark scheme

- Alternative ways of giving the same answer are indicated with a slash (/) in between the alternative responses, for example: He became/was angry/swore.
- Where appropriate, responses have been separated with 'AND' for compulsory answers and 'OR' for possible answers, for example:
  - Introduce a compulsory charge (1)
  - AND
  - (One can) ban plastic bags. (1)
  - OR
  - Give away reusable bags (1)
- Any parts of an answer that are not essential are bracketed and any parts that are key words or notions are underlined, as above.
- Candidates are likely to write acceptable answers that are not listed and these are credited.
- Examples of incorrect answers are indicated in the 'Reject' column.

Section C

Marking principles

Incorrect spelling is tolerated as long as it does not lead to ambiguity, for example drought written as drowght could be acceptable but draught might lead to ambiguity.

Candidates may write acceptable answers that are not listed.

Examples of incorrect answers are indicated in the 'Reject' column.

Translation is successful if an English speaker would understand the translation without having understood the text in its original language.

The mark grid is indicative and not exhaustive.
