1. Ben is 68 years of age and is currently in hospital following a serious chest infection which has caused him to become extremely confused. He also has multiple sclerosis.

Ben has become increasingly less mobile and finds it difficult to walk. His wife Jane is happy to care for him, but is anxious about his long-term care. She needs support and time for herself. Jane would like to go out shopping and to visit a friend once or twice a month without worrying about Ben.

Ben and Jane have discussed the situation with their social worker. The social worker has agreed to assess the situation and will develop a care plan which will give Ben and Jane greater independence.
