

Addendum to the 2004 ICT Syllabus

As from 2004, in all ICT examinations at Foundation, Standard and Advanced levels, candidates will be permitted 15 minutes in which to read through the paper before attempting the tasks. The times allowed for completing the tasks will remain unchanged and are given in the table below.

Centres should note that during the reading time candidates are not permitted to start the papers or use their computers. They are only permitted to read the exam papers. Invigilators should ensure that candidates adhere to this rule.
