SECTION A: TRANSLATION

Question 1

Translate the following passage into Italian.

In Italy, as in many southern European countries, the family is a very important social institution. In the past, it had an enormous influence on everyday life. The father was the head of the family: he earned the money and made all the decisions. However, with the passing of time the situation within the family has changed. Although women now have greater freedom and more opportunities, some believe that this has caused a decline in the importance of the family.
