4 Dave recently purchased a used car from Dodgy Motors. When Dave got the car home and properly inspected it, he noticed a new dent on the door and some old scratches to the paint work. He also noticed that the brake lights and the windscreen wipers were broken. The next day, upon starting the engine, Dave became aware of smoke coming from the exhaust just before the car broke down.

Dave later learnt that the engine had not been properly repaired by Dodgy Motors and a replacement engine was more expensive than the price Dave had paid for the car.

5 Dave had a football shirt signed by a famous player. He got into a discussion about its value with his friends, Ginika and Henry. Dave said, 'Anyone who brings £200 in cash to my house can have the shirt!'

That evening, Ginika messaged Dave, saying, 'I will bring £200 into work tomorrow for that shirt. No need to reply. Consider it sold.'

Henry found out about Ginika's message and showed Dave an envelope containing £220 at work the next day. Henry said, '£220! I'll take that football shirt.' Dave told Henry to hold on to the money whilst he talked it over with Ginika. However, Ginika had changed her mind about buying the shirt. Dave told Henry that he would take the £220 but Henry refused to go ahead with the deal.

Evaluate Dave's legal rights and remedies in this situation.
