- 3 Consider whether or not the following claimants are likely to succeed in an action for private nuisance:

- (a) Asif rents a house directly opposite the Clam Oil Refinery which is generally only busy during the day time when Asif is at work. However, in order to maximise their profits the oil refinery has recently introduced nightshifts to increase production. Now all night long there is noise from the petrol tankers coming and going and light from the bright floodlights which stop Asif being able to sleep. (10)
- (b) Belinda has recently bought a terraced cottage in the countryside. Belinda teaches piano and plans to make a living working from home giving music lessons. Her neighbour, Charlie, does not like the music and, every time a pupil starts a lesson, Charlie starts playing his heavy metal music loudly enough to disturb Belinda's lessons. (10)
- (c) Christov is an artist. His uncle allows him to use a studio at the bottom of the garden in his cottage as it is close to the cliffs and has beautiful sea views for Christov to paint. The cliffs have been slowly eroding for many years but Christov feels perfectly safe as the local council keeps a regular check on the condition of the cliffs. One day Christov enters his uncle's garden only to find the studio and half of the garden has fallen into the sea in a sudden landslide. (10)
