ADVICE TO CANDIDATES

You are advised to take account of the marks for each question or part question in allocating the available examination time.

Section A

Answer two questions from this section.

- 1 (a) Analyse and discuss how conscience is understood by religious and secular writers. [30]

(b) Critically assess the claim that the pacifist conscience is difficult to defend. [20]

- 2 (a) Explain and consider the contribution of feminist views in the Human Rights debate. [30]

(b) Critically evaluate the view that in the Human Rights debate the emphasis on rights has been at the expense of responsibilities. [20]

- 3 (a) Outline and examine the main religious and ethical views on the issue of Environmental Ethics. [30]

(b) Critically assess the claim that, because the environmental crisis is so serious, limits to human freedom are necessary. [20]

- 4 (a) With reference to relevant religious and ethical views, present a case for and discuss the issue of Capital Punishment. [30]

(b) Critically evaluate the view that resorting to the death penalty does not demonstrate Christian care and compassion. [20]

Section B

Synoptic Assessment

Theme: Religion and State

You must answer this question.

- 5 (a) With reference to at least two different areas of study, explain some key ideas on the relationship between Religion and State. [30]
- (b) "Citizens of the State do not have to accept its laws." Critically assess this claim. You should refer to other aspects of human experience in your answer. [20]
