General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Both graphs have 'PL' (Price Level) on the vertical axis and 'RO' (Real Output) on the horizontal axis. The left graph shows a downward-sloping aggregate demand curve shifting from AD1 to AD2. The new equilibrium is at the intersection of AD2 and AS, with a lower price level P1 and lower real output Y1. The right graph shows a downward-sloping aggregate demand curve labeled AD. Two vertical upward-sloping curves are shown: AS1 and AS, where AS is to the right of AS1. The initial equilibrium is at the intersection of AD and AS1, with price level P and real output Q.
