Mark Scheme

Mark schemes are prepared by the Principal Examiner and considered, together with the relevant questions, by a panel of subject teachers. This mark scheme includes any amendments made at the standardisation meeting attended by all examiners and is the scheme which was used by them in this examination. The standardisation meeting ensures that the mark scheme covers the candidates' responses to questions and that every examiner understands and applies it in the same correct way. As preparation for the standardisation meeting each examiner analyses a number of candidates' scripts: alternative answers not already covered by the mark scheme are discussed at the meeting and legislated for. If, after this meeting, examiners encounter unusual answers which have not been discussed at the meeting they are required to refer these to the Principal Examiner.

It must be stressed that a mark scheme is a working document, in many cases further developed and expanded on the basis of candidates' reactions to a particular paper. Assumptions about future mark schemes on the basis of one year's document should be avoided; whilst the guiding principles of assessment remain constant, details will change, depending on the content of a particular examination paper.

Further copies of this Mark Scheme are available to download from the AQA Website: www.aqa.org.uk

General Numerical Mark Scheme

Unit 1	Question 1
Mark	AO1 Select and apply a range of linguistic methods, to communicate relevant knowledge using appropriate terminology and coherent, accurate written expression.	AO2 Demonstrate critical understanding of a range of concepts and issues related to the construction and analysis of meanings in spoken and written language, using knowledge of linguistic approaches.	AO3 Analyse and evaluate the influence of contextual factors on the production and reception of spoken and written language, showing knowledge of the key constituents of language.
15–16	Systematic and evaluative exploration of data using linguistic methods.  Accurate and perceptive linguistic knowledge.  Appropriate, controlled and accurate expression.	Insightful and judicious groups chosen.  Conceptualised, tentative discussion of reasons for grouping texts.  Explores subtleties of grouping choices.	Perceptive and insightful exploration of contextual factors.  Analytical and systematic interpretation of factors and influence of language features.  Integrated and helpful use of the data to support interpretation.
11–14	Uses linguistic methods in a systematic way.  Appropriate and accurate linguistic knowledge.  Controlled and accurate expression.	Offers a range of interesting groups.  Developed discussion of reasons for grouping.  Understanding of complexities shown.	Clear understanding of a range of contextual factors.  Sound analysis and engagement with factors in light of language features.  Fully supported interpretations.
7–10	Applies and explores some linguistic methods.  Some appropriate linguistic knowledge, moves beyond surface.  Generally accurate written communication.	A number of groups offered.  Mix of descriptive and analytical discussion.  Some awareness of complex nature of grouping task.	Some consideration and understanding of contextual factors.  Some awareness of the link between language features and context.  Generally supported comment.
3–6	Some linguistic methods applied, but not convincing.  Limited linguistic knowledge/understanding.  Some clarity and accuracy in communication.	Limited number of groups chosen.  Often descriptive and/or anecdotal reasons given for choices.  Superficial understanding of the task shown.	Awareness of one or two factors influencing data – likely to be broad in focus.  Some limited attempt to analyse audience/purpose/genre/context.  Some illustrated points.
1–2	Linguistic methods applied inaccurately or not at all.  Rudimentary linguistic knowledge.  Lapses in written communication.	Unhelpful groups chosen – texts possibly placed in inappropriate groups.  Elementary understanding of categorising language.  Possibly lists texts under group headings.	Little or no attempt to explore issues of audience/purpose/genre/context.  Superficial/generalised response to the data.  Likely to paraphrase/summarise.
0	Nothing written. Unintelligible.	Nothing written. Unintelligible.	Nothing written. Unintelligible.

Unit 1		Questions 2, 3 and 4
Mark	AO2 Demonstrate critical understanding of a range of concepts and issues related to the construction and analysis of meanings in spoken and written language, using knowledge of linguistic approaches.	Mark	AO3 Analyse and evaluate the influence of contextual factors on the production and reception of spoken and written language, showing knowledge of the key constituents of language.
15–16	Sensitive understanding of a range of issues/concepts.  Conceptualised discussion of ideas surrounding topic.  Integrated examples from study which illuminate data/discussion.	30–32	Perceptive and insightful exploration of contextual factors.  Analytical and systematic interpretation of factors and influence of language features.  Integrated and helpful use of the data to support interpretation.
11–14	Clear understanding of a range of language concepts/issues.  Developed discussion of ideas relating to concepts/issues related to topic.  Explores a range of well-selected examples.	22–29	Clear understanding of a range of contextual factors.  Sound analysis and engagement with factors in light of language features.
