Write between 600 and 900 words for each composition

Section A: Narrative/Descriptive/Imaginative Writing

- 1 Write a detailed description of a deserted and isolated place which helps to create the atmosphere of either a horror or suspense story.
- 2 Write the opening scene of a drama-script for a new radio soap-opera. You should make sure that the script establishes the personalities of the principal characters and their relationships with each other.
- 3 Write a section called 'Early Childhood' as part of your own autobiography. The section should convey some of your strongest memories from your early life.
- 4 Write a descriptive piece about the effects of a natural disaster on a particular place. You should try to capture the atmosphere and mood both before and after the event.

Section B: Discursive/Argumentative Writing

- 5 As a representative of your school or college, you have been asked to give a welcoming speech to a party of visiting teachers and students from a different country. In your speech you should try to highlight the positive aspects of your own country and culture.
- 6 'Ignorance is bliss.'
'You can never learn too much.'

Which view are you in closer agreement with, and why?
- 7 Write the opening of a magazine feature called 'Dangerous Fools' intended to explore different views of the behaviour of people who pursue extreme and dangerous sports, or who take on record-breaking challenges.
- 8 'Technology gives young people today knowledge and power that they have never had before. The implications are rather serious.' Do you agree? You should offer detailed reasons for your views.
