Introduction

It was pleasing to see a range of well-informed and well-written responses from candidates on IAS Paper WHIO2 1C which covers the option Russia, 1917-91: From Lenin to Yeltsin. The paper is divided into two sections. Section A contains a compulsory two-part question for the option studied, each part based on one source. It assesses source analysis and evaluation skills (AO2). Section B comprises a choice of essays that assess understanding of the period in depth (AO1) by targeting five second order concepts - cause, consequence, change/ continuity, similarity/difference and significance.

It is pleasing to note that in Section A some candidates demonstrated an understanding what was meant by 'value' in question 1a) in the context of source analysis in this session. However, many still continue to write about limitations to the source and since this is not covered by 'value' and hence not rewarded in the mark scheme, means that candidates disadvantage themselves in terms of the time take to develop such arguments which impacts on the time they have to spend on the rest of the paper. Candidates are also still struggling with the concept of 'weight' in question 1b). Candidates need to approach weight by considering the reliability of the source. This can be measured in terms of the trustworthiness of the provenance and/or the accuracy of the content. Hence candidates should explore the strengths and limitations of the source and on then, based upon their judgements ascribe weight to the source. Many candidates also make use of contextual knowledge to expand on the detail in the sources, and make limited use of the context to develop reasoned inferences and to discuss what can be gained from the source. This limits achievement in bullet point 2 of the mark scheme and impacts on the overall mark rewarded.

In Section B, some candidates produced descriptive essays which had limited of analysis, but more responses were soundly structured. The most common weakness in Section B essays was the lack of a sharp focus on the precise terms of the question and/or the second order concept that was targeted.

It remains important to realise that Section A topics are drawn from highlighted topics on the specification whereas Section B questions may be set from any part of any Key Topic, and, as a result, full coverage of the specification is enormously important. There was little evidence on this paper of candidates having insufficient time to answer questions from Sections A and B.

The candidates' performance on individual questions is considered in the next section.

Question 1a)

The majority of responses achieved level 2 and a good proportion entered level 3. These responses demonstrated an understanding of the source material and an ability to draw and develop inferences from the material using their contextual knowledge to explain inferences as well as expanding on matters in the source. Valid comments were made on the provenance of the source and value explained. The common features of responses that could not access level three were use of contextual knowledge to expand upon material in the source (this was usually presented in a separate paragraph) and a lack of discussion on the value of the source. It is important that candidates do reach a judgement on the value. Candidates should not, therefore, focus on addressing the enquiry itself but on the value of the source to an historian making the enquiry. Candidates need to step back and consider why the source would be valuable. Those candidates who achieve this score well in level three. There is no reference to the limitations of the source in the question and mark scheme and therefore comments on lack of value should be avoided.

Source 1 is vighty usuable for an enquiry into the significance of the policy of liberalisation uncler Warushchen Seconse 25 mentioned the provensuce it was written by a Crorbaction it a primary source. As regional deputy of the part of the Soviet youth group Crosbocher would have been very close to the source and would know things from believed the scenes moving the source very would Further the provensica states first he had "access to the full text of the secret speech" this allowed Wim Milleril Crosbacher to know the plans and gools Who suches has had with the policy of liseralisation adding more value to the source. This is a low level 3 response. The answer draws out a couple of inferences in the second paragraph which are supported by the evidence in the source. The provenance is used to make valid comments about the reliability of the source. However, the contextual knowledge is used to expand on the details in the source rather than to develop inferences and hence the answer achieves level 2 in bullet point 2 which holds this at low level three.

Sorce I is valuable for to a historian for an erging to be significance of the policy of libralisation ender Khrischer de to its provenance. The source is written by Gorbachen, the last books of the USSR, in 1995, after the fall of the Soviet Chion. Bokacher also attempted reforms on the forty in a similar way Brokhen did, in order 60 waken the stalingt get to therefore will by having access to all managers helical resources of the Party as well as bing member of the Konsond drive Khashke leadship be work to an a very reliable position in to comment about the significance of Khorkher's police as when he would und take a similar patheray to reform the Roly and not make the same mishakes than Whusher when Gorbacher says that The criticism of Stalin discodited totalifacionism and acoused hopes to referm we can infer that a consequence of his policy ans that de-station was going to accor and the exclan of coconship was garage to to remarch . This can be demonstrated as books like

This is significant because of show Khrishcher policy brought freedom of specif 6 the South Chion and there fore notifies source I valve for an enquire into the significance of the policy of liberalisation. cooled 'the restration of the good name of A Charles of inocent people' we can infer that another significant consequence of Charaction was that they a people who were folsely accord during the stalinist regime were acideadiced in sormal conditions in airlatte life This is demonstrated to the fact that between 1953 - 50 Whowkher released 2 million political poisones from galess. This is significant because -t demandrates the willingress for reform that Khritcher was approaching through destalinisation and gives be some more value to a coping into the sign france of literalisation policy Erhomore, who colaches eye but i he still fored litter osistance we can infer that liberalisation with Manshele significance case t very large de 6 the entrechtered stalinist gisten and bureacht left officiale. This is a high level three response. Inferences are drawn out about the release of prisoners and on opposition to liberalisation within the party. In this response the contextual knowledge is used to develop the inferences rather than to expand as in the previous example. Relevant discussion of the provenance and the value of the source mean that this response achieves level three in all bullet point and is therefore a high level three.

Question 1b)

Most candidates were able to achieve level three in response to this question and there were some good answers that entered level 4. In question 1b, candidates need to evaluate the weight of the source in relation to the enquiry. This requires them to investigate the strengths and limitations of the source and to reach a judgement. In the case of level three answers, the judgement is often undeveloped or not explained. Collectivisation is a very familiar topic to candidates but this does come with pitfalls – many candidates are eager to display their depth of knowledge on the topic and develop very lengthy description of collectivisation from their knowledge. This is not a successful approach and leads to achievement at level one or level two in bullet point 2 because at bets the contextual knowledge is used for support of expansion and not to interrogate the evidence in the source. The better approach is to use the context to illuminate what could therefore be gained from the source. Some candidates made good use of the authorship of the source and it implications to develop an evaluation and judgement that was based on valid criteria.

when from source 2 we read ' result has been the topic of lessing agriculture's one on ight Out the policy of collectivisation has bad a decetating affect on the country side. This on be seen as gain production had fell from MT 73. 3 orling force in 1928 to 67 million bones 6, 1932, which is significant as I drowhales the state of terminal sickers that societ agriculture was suffering and therefore gires from wight to some 2 for an enquiry into be impacts of collectionation. Moreover when Somes says " sueller Gollies associated with penine" are an inter that the social population was storing to dath, and this can to see as a sillo pege tod ded de la jeune Chusen 192-38 as and as another 5-11:00 in Chance De la Holodorer ( overde gl Marionia Ge stacia Lina) This is a significant because it stones againstheat gradiation was not able to feed its own population and therefore shows that the impact of collections from had been dissessing which six acient to some 2 to an anguing into the Trapet of collectionsation.

However, when Some says that 'the potatos left are being could one by one we are infor that agricultural production was at its lowest, but this is not completely occurate, this can be seen as the private plate that were left one producing GIO Was per hector compared to the 820 kilos of collective from The is significant a it show that to one what some is coggerating the familie impact of collections from ahah is not complete the as private place over significant collective powders . There has This gives less aright to some 2 a enquiry into the impact of collectivisation According to the prosenance, as this article is exitten in 1933, at this time On effects of collectivisation and be already se is the constraint that Some visited a it was implemented since 1920 therefore this gives force 2 excipt for an engine into the impact of collectivisation because viscal effects would be the clear and dicetive in order to make a reliable judgement about the effects of collections.

However, as the provenance is form an 6-1/4 newspaper, its purpose would be to denounce sout atoxiches and be critical about in order to create is critical throughout the whole extrac showing so positive impact to balance his ergue a Same I love wight her for a into the impact of allectication. Ownell the source has sign front weight for an engiting sale the impacts of collectivation because ever though he is evitical policy as we would expect , I show the realt that collection about had agriculture is as state at terrinal sickness and even though his propose would have been to desource source orines against humanity the to collectionation, must of thought what he sage to the source can be travis auggosted & widne so it shows he is not accompanding the horrible impact of collectivisation of Russia agricultie and the country sick population.

This is a strong level 4 response. It draws out a range of inferences from the source material and these inferences are tested with contextual knowledge to develop the discussion on the weight of the source for the inquiry. The provenance of the source is used effectively. There is strong reasoning throughout the answer.

Question 2

This was the most popular essay question. The best answers were underpinned by a depth of knowledge on a range of relevant issues relating to the nature of the government of the USSR under Lenin and Stalin and were underpinned by an informed discussion on the extent of change. Informed responses examined the ideological principle behind communist government, considered the role of institutions such as Sovnarkom, and the growing importance of the authority of the leader developing into personal dictatorship served by a terror system. At the lower levels, candidates struggled to focus on the nature and government and tended to describe policies pursued by Lenin and Stalin with a focus on economic policy. Such responses provided some links to nature of government but were unable to access level four. Some candidates did not take sufficient notice of the time period set in the question and provided a survey of government from Lenin to Gorbachev. This restricted their achievement in the levels.

The nature of the USSR government between 1917-1953 can be motivally classified into three: Terror, bureaucrany and foreign Rule LAndborney).

Although they was the nature row net changed the order of the extent of the property varied affect the content of the extent of the hugely varied affect the content of the extent of the hugely varied affect the content of the extent of the hugely ampritude. It have been the Brown Ruse under Halin might be argued as charge of the hugely accounted in the source of the source of the hugely are content.

The not Terror usage was continuos from 1117 to 1953 unde lesin as state, keeping the norther However, States Lenin's Red Anny Terrorised country, Especially during the civil war Requisitioning allowed then to lorcibly take crops from pearants. In and the deare of Justice let them have the Kulades without any reasons to Justify stating Lanin, however did not use terror to the communist Porty member but the apprents & Station on the other hand, was extensive case of terror, as he used it to plan commate other party members that challenged his anterthy. For example, the purge of Party, including the purge of 16, 17 and 21, Killed Zirovier and key a tissues like Bukharin to got rid of & people who had any impacts on the party what is more, he started to continue to expande the inthunce of terror by huilding up "Gulag", the labour cump and sends a number of Tanount people. A Yezhoushchima, concluded by Kalin, TERE who was head of frent police under status, was a massacre, killing mon than 3 milion and leaving unbulerable Tigum of the out of sight so people arrested in whole USIR As a Harry Bush the territor did not you and alonged, by there extent of # Increased dramatically under Station, but the nortune of government, as lenter also used terror, did not change.

Monover to @ Buranciney in the USIR government stayed the same as supporters of tentin and station, used as a power base. Lenin could be supported in the government from the and 1917 or become it the Abmenkluture's yetem when the could append imported to the party like patronage system lenting usage of this bureau cracy allowed him to have authority to been publish many decrees such as done of NortionalTartion, which helped him to to control the a country further. State likevik, Statin's and fundamental powerbuy , ever before the death of lenin in 1924 has came from his wed bureauguary as he has govern searching, the more the used homencepting the more supporter he had . He also amplified his power by launching tenin tennilment and stulin Enrollment, ancouraging mound now pople to John the party and become supported of this Lary this would manipulate other rivers of & himself by taking their policial pover 14 from the government, rike when Zinovian and Kamerer were a tricked out from the their lost their pove is a result so startin lenin and we buseaucray, the nature of & sould communed to Es & build up their postilical power & which means the notice of the government @ stayed but as Clutin encouraged a number of people more to the party and filled the government with his supporter it can be seen that he had bother use of bureucacy.

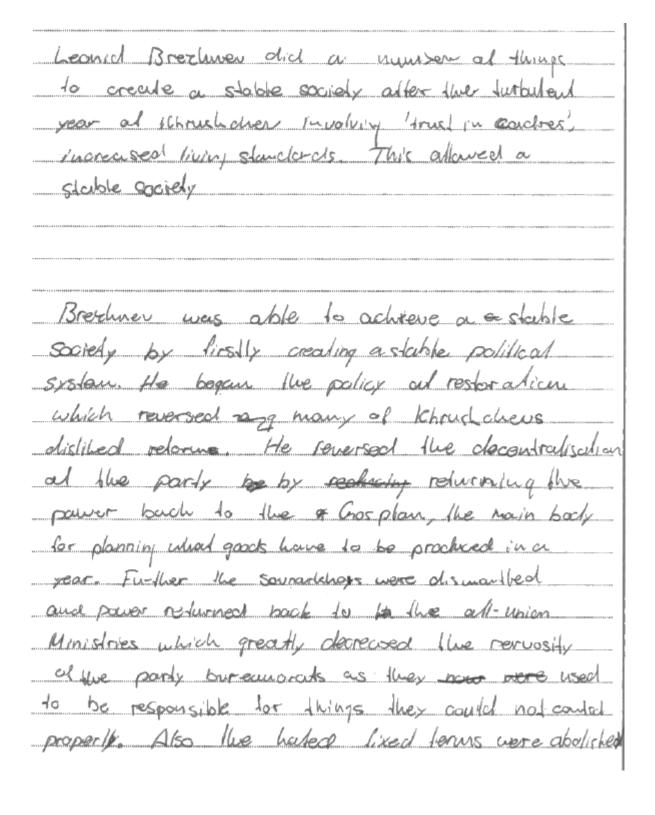

However The could be argued that the parconal rule halve of passard rule halve that the parconal rule halve of passard rule to changed under Station as the station removal any demourary left in the government, when there was sovetimed stopped by other party members, station atthough he particled some party's unity's banding the fluctions in the government, he was allowed free debate in the partition of the particled days in

Anyone who occurre popular amony people was purged or assussingly like King, at best who was station; belower when he was killed and to be was popular in Maliow. Monore, has cult of personulity brought himself as "yorkd" of like Führer 2 HACK in Novi Gramony even being loved by people everyone in the USIR Therefore the notion of personal rate our to conte ha chattged by dulin as te got ridd any soil I challenges or patential challenge that might five him Never the less, less Lesin, even though he was a could criticized, he was seen as the highest figure in the government and the most of his ideas were pursed, including contracted NEP, A Which are can mean that the nature of personal rule has also shaped. To sum up, the nature of the soviet Government had not changed under Linn and states on between 1917 to 1953, as the patrocker Tempor and theke under lyin and former Terror was used by both Lenin Dand Statin, Sed chin and MKVD, bureaucray was used to in terms of pour buse in the government, and personal rule where bear and shellon hat were the most important tigues in the government. However, the runge was far brother and larger under the time, especially in Personal miles, that climinimated every tormal appointments to which might be arroved that the norther 4 almost changed but # a as line also the most reported flances. It can be agged seen as development rother thun Change

This is a strong level 4 response. It has focused analysis and developed judgements. There is a good range of knowledge that is deployed effectively The conclusion that the nature did not change but aspect were intensified forms a compelling argument and the response aches level 4 in all the bullet points.

Question 3

A small number of candidates answered this question. Some candidates were well informed on Brezhnev's policies to achieve a stable society and considered factors such as full employment and healthcare as well as the problem of alcohol. A number of candidates focused more on political stability and although these answers had some implicit focus on the question, they did not engage in the discussion at the highest level an achievement was therefore restricted.

This is a low level 4 response. There is some analysis and attempt to explain the links to the question. However, in places it tends to wander into discussing political stability rather than the stable society. Therefore, it enters level 4 but does not reach the higher marks within the level.

Question 4

A small number of candidates answered this question. Most candidates scored in mid to high level three and into level 4. Candidates were well-informed on a range of economic problems that confronted the Soviet economy in the period 1964-85, although in several answers there was limited reference to military spending and this did impact on the analysis and development of the judgement in responses.

The main reason for the weaknesses of the Soviel economy in the years 1964-1985 was the priority given to spending on the military but only to an extent

Firstly Brezhnev was the General Secretary during the period 1964-1982 and in 1985 Hikhail Gorbachev took over his scat. Brezhnev led to a stagnation in the economy not only by spending too much money on the military to compete with the vestern powers to Right in the Cold war but also because of his social & political policies which made the workforce anable to produce goods and services for comple. Browner spend 25% of the USSR's GDP into the military. This is a significant amount of money. The USSR wanted too keep up with the Western powers and invested a lot of money into technology. Horaco, they also invested money on missiles which were stationed in aba so that they were closer to the USA. This was during the Cold War where a lot of tension exsited between the USA and the USER While the USA had positioned missiles in Turkey, Russia had them in Cuba Brezhneu's ain was to keep up with the technology, everponary in the western countries. They also invested money into the Pussion Air Force, Navy, and the opaceprogramm where they were occreated because they were the first nation who exemplished a trip to the moon There was a constant civary between the USA and the USSR and each country invested millions into the military to be better than the other.

Secondly another reason for the weakness of the Societ economy in the year, 1964-1985 was the social policies of Breshner. Brezhnov stognation in the society was enarmous Although he increased the minimum and the real wage by 50% othe people could not do a lot with that money because the second goods and services were missing de to the woods economy. People enfoyed higher living stondards. However, prices of some goods were too high (water was more expensive than coding). Therefore a lot of Russian bought codice instead of water and the USSR faced the problem of alcoholism. Due that a lot of the workforce was enable to work and there was the famous work off monday. Worker were so drunk that they didn't go to anoth on mondays. The Additionally, the USSR had the highest divorce rate in Europe 50% of all marriages in Hoscow ended up in a divorce. This ted to a lot of single people who were decosted and were in deht Moreover, single living people are spending tess money tran manied people which decreased consemption in the USBR Politically, Brezmen Kept his secretaries sun as Chemeko Per nearly 18 years. A loted the politicions during Brezhneu's time as General Scaetary were 60+ 70+ & This led to no now reforms because they were enjoying their political states bet with no new policies the workers got inmolivated and had no prossure as to get to work However, in 1977 the new Societ Constitution was put in order which created the norm 5 day week week

Horaer the next (cason for the weakness of the Societ acrony in the years 1964-1985 was the spending on imports, and the decline in economic growth due to no investment. Although the Russians found all in Siberia in the mid 1970s, they could not improve their economy. Bock then the discovery of oil was one of the main aims for big powers such as the COSSR. Havever, instead of investing the money born the oil into their economy by spending it on their infrastrules for example, they had to spend their morey on exports. They needed resources such as grain from Awhalia so that the civilians cald survive. Their economic growth rate declined from 7% in 1964 to merely 3% in 1982. This was obe to Brozhna. Althaugh people had a high living standard and every 9th house hold had a cor, nearly every home had a television and a radio, there use no new economical policies since the 5 year plans. This leads body to the old politioning which had no inspiration to create new policies, the USAR would have needed yours fresh politicions who were willing to change something. However, Breehner had new plans on improving the economy, especially in the manufacturity sector. He had worked out new technology and wonted to train the worken so that they would get more shilled but since the worker were drank and often uneducated thou could not learn the new shills and therefore the new improvements were denounced and the corners kept on working the old Pashined way.

Overall, the main reason for the weakness of the Societeconomy was the priority given to spending on the millitary but only to an extent. There were also Breezhneu's political and social policies which led to a stagnation of the economy. The spending on experts is mother factor. Without a doubt Breezhneu was an intelligent General Secretary but in the end he was to old to come up with new policies and a bid egoistic be cause he worted to remain General Secretary

This is a mid-level 3 response. Its focus does vary but there is a good section that describes a range of relevant economic problems including stagnation and poor investment as well as making some reference to military spending. There is some inaccuracy and descriptive material on soviet society that has little relevance here. It achieves in level three with weak focus on the given factor but other relevant material.

Based on the performance of this paper, candidates are offered the following advice:

Section A

- Make sure you are aware of the topics highlighted for the source question and have prepared for them
- A careful reading of the sources is needed so that the issues raised are clearly identified
- You must ensure that you draw out inferences, but these should always be directly linked to the source and not driven by contextual knowledge
- You should consider the nature, origin and purpose of the source
- Do not merely restate what the provenance says think about how it can be used to address the question. In a, this requires a consideration of how it adds value and in b, this requires considering value and limitations
- Do not deal with the 'bullet points' separately value and weight are established by a more holistic approach that uses context and consideration of provenance to evaluate the source
- Contextual knowledge should be used to support the answer, not to drive it, and should be made relevant to the enquiry
- Question 1a does not require a consideration of the limitations of sources
- It is unlikely that weight can be assessed by listing all the things that a source does not deal with.

Section B

- Spending a few minutes planning helps to ensure the second order concept is correctly identified
- Candidates must provide more precise contextual knowledge as evidence. Weaker responses lacked depth and sometimes range
- Candidates should avoid a narrative/descriptive approach; this undermines the analysis that is required for the higher levels
- Candidates need to be aware of key dates as identified in the specification so that they can address the questions with chronological precision
- Essay questions are set over a period of at least ten years; candidates need to address the whole time period set in the question
- Candidates should try to explore the links between issues in order to make the structure of the response flow more logically and to enable the integration of analysis.
