Read the following passage and answer questions 47-50

Now since law and morals are primarily concerned with human interest, every wrong involves some interest attacked by it, and every duty involves some interest to which it relates, and for whose protection it exists. The converse, however, is not true. Every attack upon an interest is not a wrong either in fact or in law, nor is respect for every interest a duty, either legal or natural. Many interests exist de facto and not also de jure; they receive no recognition or protection from any rule of right. The violation of them is no wrong, and respect for them; is no duty. For the interests of men conflict with each other, and it is impossible for all to revive rightful recognition. The rule of justice selects some for protection and the others are rejected. Whether his interest amounts to a right depends on whether there exists with respect to it a duty imposed upon any other person.

Rights, like wrongs and duties, are either moral or legal. A moral or natural right is an interest recognized and protected by a rule of morality – an interest the violation of which would be a moral wrong, and respect for which is amoral duty. A legal right, on the other hand, is an interest recognized and protected by a rule of law – an interest the violation of which would be a legal wrong done to him whose interest it is, and respect for which is a legal duty.

47. An interest recognized and protected by a rule of law
 - (A) a legal right
 - (B) legal order
 - (C) legal obligations
 - (D) a legal duty
48. What is the primary concern of law and morals ?
 - (A) Human behaviour
 - (B) Human interest
 - (C) Human security
 - (D) Human development
49. Rights and duties are
 - (A) Legal only
 - (B) Moral only
 - (C) Moral or legal
 - (D) Moral and legal
50. Which of the following statement is correct ?
 - (A) All interests are protected by law
 - (B) Some interests are protected by law
 - (C) No interest is protected by law
 - (D) None of the above statements is correct
