Instructions to Teachers/Tutors

This booklet must be read in conjunction with the unit information in the specification and the BTEC Nationals Instructions for Conducting External Assessments (ICEA) document. See the Pearson website for details.

Learners should undertake independent research on the context given in this Part A booklet.

Learners are advised to spend approximately six hours on Part A.

Centres must issue this booklet at the appropriate time and advise learners of the timetabled sessions during which they can prepare. It is expected that scheduled lessons or other timetabled slots will be used for at least some of the preparation.

Learners may prepare summary notes based on their research findings. Learners may take up to six sides of A4 notes of this type into the supervised assessment (Part B). Learner notes can include facts and figures relating to organisations, such as the products they offer and the ways they use the marketing mix in their promotional campaigns.

Learner notes must not include any analysis or evaluation of their research findings. Notes should not include any pre-prepared promotional plans.

Teachers/Tutors must not give any support or additional resources to learners during Part A. The work must be completed independently by the learner.

The supervised assessment will take place in a timetabled period specified by Pearson. Centres should schedule all learners at the same time or supervise cohorts to ensure there is no opportunity for collusion.

Refer carefully to the instructions in this task booklet and the BTEC Nationals Instructions for Conducting External Assessments (ICEA) document to ensure that the preparatory period is conducted correctly so that learners have completed their preparation validly and independently.

All learner notes must be retained securely by the centre after Part B and may be requested by Pearson if there is suspected malpractice.

Instructions for Learners

Part B Set Task Information

The Vinyl Album Revival

Sales of vinyl records passed one million units a year in 2014 for the first time since 1996. The average price for a vinyl album is £20, considerably more than the price of the same album as a digital download. Special edition vinyl albums featuring extra items such as posters or codes to download additional songs can cost significantly more. When Pink Floyd's 'The Wall' was reissued as a double vinyl album with a poster and a download code it sold for £38.

The market for vinyl albums in the UK was worth around £5m in 2010. By 2015 the value of the market had increased to around £20m.

The main purchasers of vinyl albums tend to be men aged over 35, many of whom are collectors.

One of the reasons for the popularity of vinyl records is the annual 'Record Store Day' organised by the music industry to promote sales. Many artists produce exclusive limited edition records that are sold only in smaller records shops on that day.

In the UK, vinyl albums account for less than 6% of album sales, although it is the fastest growing segment of the market. In 2014, Pink Floyd's 'The Endless River' became the fastest-selling vinyl album since 1996, despite selling only 6 000 copies during that year. During the same year One Direction had their tracks streamed on Spotify over a billion times.

Wax Perfection

Wax Perfection is a record shop in Liverpool. It sells mainly new vinyl albums as well as:

- new albums on other formats such as CD, USB and cassette
- second-hand albums on a range of formats
- related goods such as t-shirts, posters, record players, vinyl record cleaning products and toys.

The owners of Wax Perfection organise regular signings by bands and arrange short acoustic performances by artists. These events attract a large number of potential customers to the shop, many of whom have never visited it before. Wax Perfection also takes part in the annual Record Store Day, selling exclusive records produced by a range of artists.

Boosting Sales

Wax Perfection operates a Record of the Month Club. Subscribers pay £35 per month to receive a vinyl album selected by the shop owners. This will always be accompanied by promotional items from the artists involved, such as a bonus CD of exclusive songs, signed photographs of the artists and other items.

The shop owners currently want to attract more customers to their existing shop. Wax Perfection has experienced staff who are all experts in different types of music. They can advise customers about which records to buy and how to get the most out of their stereo equipment and headphones.

The owners of the business are currently considering focusing their campaign around one form of promotion:

EITHER

- 1 Print adverts in specialist music press

OR

- 2 Distributing leaflets outside music venues after gigs.

The marketing budget for the campaign is £8 000.

What is Record Store Day?

On the third Saturday of April each year, independent record stores around the world host an event to celebrate recorded music. Tens of thousands of records are sold on this day each year, many of them in limited editions of several hundred copies.
