Instructions to Teachers/Tutors

This booklet must be given to learners in its entirety as soon as it is received.

Learners should undertake independent research on the set task information.

Centres must advise learners of the timetabled sessions during which they can prepare. It is expected that scheduled lessons or other timetable slots will be used for some or all of the preparation.

The set task will be released eight weeks before the supervised assessment period during which time learners must work independently to complete their own research and preparatory work.

There are two activities for the set task and two outcomes for submission.

The 10-hour supervised assessment period should be arranged over a number of sessions within a two-week period.

The preparatory activities can be completed under informal supervision.

- Work can be brought in and out of the informally supervised environment, but this must be monitored so the learner's final submission can be authenticated.
- Learners can take a copy of their notes into the formal supervision sessions.

The written response must be word processed, the digital promotional portfolio must be saved electronically and all learner evidence should be submitted in accordance with the Administrative Support Guide.

Activity 1: Written response

- The writing up of the response must be carried out under supervised conditions. This document must be word processed (up to 2000 words).
- Learners may bring their own notes and records into the supervised assessment period. The information can contain brief bullet points or mind maps of ideas to be covered but must not include fully formed sentences or phrases that could be used directly in their response. These must be hard copies and can be either handwritten or word processed. Teachers/tutors must ensure that all notes and records learners use are their own work.
- At the end of the supervised period a pdf of the written response must be made and stored securely until the time of the submission with no further editing permitted.

Activity 2: Digital promotional portfolio

- The digital promotional portfolio must be completed under supervised conditions.
- Teachers/tutors must not guide the learner with the content of the portfolio.

Centres should schedule all learners at the same time or supervise cohorts to ensure there is no opportunity for collusion.

Teachers/tutors should note that:

- Learners must not be given any direct guidance or prepared materials.
- Learners must not be given any support in writing or editing notes.
- All work must be completed independently by the learner.
- Learner notes must be retained securely by the centre after the supervised assessment period and may be requested by Pearson if there is suspected malpractice.

Learners may refer to their notes, records and recordings during this time; however teachers/tutors must ensure that all materials learners refer to are the learner's own work.

Learners must not bring anything into the supervised environment or take anything out without teacher/tutor knowledge and approval.

Centres are responsible for putting in place appropriate checks to ensure that only permitted material is introduced into the supervised environment.

Maintaining security

- During the supervised assessment sessions, the assessment areas must only be accessible to the individual learners and to named members of staff.
- Learners may bring their own notes into the supervised assessment period. The information can contain brief bullet points or mind maps of ideas to be covered but must not include fully-formed sentences or phrases that could be used directly in their response. The notes must not exceed four sides of A4. These must be hard copies and can be either handwritten or word processed.
- Learners can only access their work under supervision.
- Any work learners produce under supervision must be kept securely.
- Learner notes and records related to the task must be checked to ensure the contents meet limitations.
- Learner notes must be retained securely by the centre after the supervised assessment period and may be requested by Pearson if there is suspected malpractice.
- Only permitted materials for the set task can be brought into the supervised environment.
- During any permitted break and at the end of the session materials must be kept securely and no items removed from the supervised environment.
- Learners are not permitted to have access to the internet or other resources, except their own notes, records and recordings, during the supervised assessment period.

After the session the teacher/tutor must confirm that all learner work has been completed independently as part of the authentication submitted to Pearson.

The set task is a formal external assessment and must be conducted with reference to the instructions in this booklet and the BTEC Nationals Instructions for Conducting External Assessments (ICEA) document to ensure that the preparatory period is conducted correctly so that learners have completed their preparation validly and independently.

Set Task Information

Below is the information on the employment opportunity being offered and details of the organisational profile, performance project and workshop requirements for you to use when completing your written response and digital promotional portfolio.

Employment Opportunity: 'Behold Performance Company'

'Behold Performance Company' is seeking applications from freelance practitioners, from a range of disciplines, who can work as both performers and workshop leaders.

'Behold Performance Company' would like to forge meaningful and lasting working relationships with talented and motivated freelance practitioners working across our region. We are seeking applications from those willing to work flexibly.

This employment opportunity is to support and connect people with the performing arts, through creative collaborations in educational settings.

You will need to demonstrate your understanding of our organisation, the work we do and the demands of this particular project.

You will also need to share your ideas about the content and delivery of the workshops that will be delivered to support the performance project. You should use relevant examples from your own work to justify your ideas and the skills you are able to offer.

Organisational Profile

'Behold Performance Company' is a non-profit youth development organisation. The company has an excellent reputation for pioneering work within the field of arts education. The company is funded by a range of third sector funding organisations.

The company was established over 10 years ago to support young people from a wide range of backgrounds, using the performing arts to inspire and influence positive choices for the future.

Over the last 10 years the company has built an excellent reputation and we are very proud of the work we do. We believe working in collaboration with others is a better way to support young people in today's society.

Performance Project Outline

Shared Stories is a new creative collaboration, working with a large multi-academy trust consisting of several primary and secondary schools across the region. The project will tour all schools in the trust with this issue-based performance project, sharing stories relevant to the young people attending these schools.

This performance uses the arts to reflect the way young people live and the challenges they face today. Imaginative and engaging performance work can provide memorable experiences, and we aim for this work to truly inspire young audiences.

The work must meet the aims of the company, the requirements of the funders and the high expectations of the schools and the young people the project aims to serve.

Workshop Requirements

As part of this creative collaboration, outreach learning workshops will take place within the schools before the tour begins.

The workshops will not only spark and support social and emotional development but will also be used to inspire and inform content for the performance itself.

The workshops will need to cover a range of relevant issues and activities to engage and support young people.
