PART B: SIGHT PASSAGE

7 multiple-choice questions

1 written-response question

Value: 25%

Suggested Time: 35 min.

INSTRUCTIONS: Read both the following selections by Alfred Lord Tennyson. For questions 24 to 30, choose the best answer.

Tennyson's poem In Memoriam, which consists of a series of short numbered sections, laments the death of his friend, Arthur Henry Hallam.

from In Memoriam

54.

O, yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood;

5 That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroy'd,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete;

10 That not a worm is cloven in vain;
That not a moth with vain desire
Is shrivell'd in a fruitless fire,
Or but subserves another's gain.

15 Behold, we know not anything;
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last—far off—at least, to all,
And every winter change to spring.

20 So runs my dream: but what am I?
An infant crying in the night:
An infant crying for the light:
And with no language but a cry.

124.

That which we dare invoke to bless;
Our dearest faith; our ghastliest doubt;
He, They, One, All; within, without;
The Power in darkness whom we guess;

5 I found Him not in world or sun,
Or eagle's wing, or insect's eye;
Nor thro' the questions men may try,
The petty cobwebs we have spun:

10 If e'er when faith had fall'n asleep,
I heard a voice 'believe no more'
And heard an ever-breaking shore
That tumbled in the Godless deep;

15 A warmth within the breast would melt
The freezing reason's colder part,
And like a man in wrath the heart
Stood up and answer'd 'I have felt.'

20 No, like a child in doubt and fear:
But that blind clamour made me wise;
Then was I as a child that cries,
But, crying, knows his father near;

And what I am beheld again
What is, and no man understands;
And out of darkness came the hands
That reach thro' nature, moulding men.

Alfred Lord Tennyson

Polonius:	With what, i' th' name of God?
Ophelia:	My lord, as I was sewing in my closet, ¹ Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced, ² No hat upon his head, his stockings fouled, Ungartered, and down-gyvèd ³ to his ankle, Pale as his shirt, his knees knocking each other, And with a look so piteous in purport, ⁴ As if he had been loosèd out of hell To speak of horrors—he comes before me.	80
Polonius:	Mad for thy love?
Ophelia:	My lord, I do not know, But truly I do fear it.	85
Polonius:	What said he?
Ophelia:	He took me by the wrist and held me hard; Then goes he to the length of all his arm, And with his other hand thus o'er his brow He falls to such perusal of my face As 'a would draw it. Long stayed he so. At last, a little shaking of mine arm, And thrice his head thus waving up and down, He raised a sigh so piteous and profound As it did seem to shatter all his bulk And end his being. That done, he lets me go, And, with his head over his shoulder turned, He seemed to find his way without his eyes, For out o' doors he went without their helps, And to the last bended their light on me.	90
		95
Polonius:	Come, go with me. I will go seek the King. This is the very ecstasy ⁵ of love, Whose violent property fordoes ⁶ itself And leads the will to desperate undertakings As oft as any passions under heaven That does afflict our natures. I am sorry. What, have you given him any hard words of late?	105

Kent:	Let it fall ² rather, though the fork ³ invade The region of my heart. Be Kent unmannerly When Lear is mad. What wouldst thou do, old man?
