(ii) To and fro

(iii) Proud of

(iv) Face the music

(v) In need of

(vi) Call at

(vii) Turn a deaf ear

Q. 6 Read the following passage and answer the questions appended to it:

In some parts of the world malnutrition is due rather to unbalanced diets and badly prepared food than to actual shortages. Because the value of proteins is not understood by some people, their diet is often grossly unbalanced. As a result, they suffer from deficiency diseases. This reduces their ability to work efficiently. The whole thing is a vicious circle because the people are unfed or ill-fed, they have no reserves of physical strength; so they are easily weakened by disease and lack energy; thus they can not work efficiently and agricultural productivity suffers; inadequate production completes the circle, for the people must then go hungry.

Questions:

(i) Write down the meaning of the following terms:

02

- a. Grossly unbalanced
- b. Deficiency diseases
- (ii) What is the reason behind the loss in agricultural productivity?

02

(iii) Write a précis of the given passage in about one third of its original length and suggest a suitable title.

06

Fair weather friend (ii) Cut down (i)

(iii) Come off Give in (iv)

Bring to book (V) (vi) Pass away

(vii) Set out

Q. 6 Read the following passage and answer the questions appended to it:

It is one of life's choicest blessings to have a few sincere friends. This is not easy, as it may seem. To attract friends, one must oneself be attractive. For this, the first thing necessary is to have trustful nature. Confidence alone begets confidence. One must open one's heart to a friend, holding back nothing. Secrecy is the poison that always destroys lasting friendship and so one must have no secret from a real friend. Secondly, one must always avoid fault-finding; it will produce a feeling of natural irritation. This leads to estrangement. It is only when friendship is tested by the trials of life that faults may be pointed out without creating ill will. Thirdly, there can be no true or lasting friendship between men of unequal status. Real friendship is possible between equals. There must be no intention on one side or the other to make friendship a matter of gain or convenience. But real friendship is a very rare thing in the world. There are many people who seem to be incapable of it. Suspicious natures and those who are credulous are easily influenced by reports and can never make good friends.

Questions:

- (i) What spoils lasting friendship?
- (ii) What produces irritation?
- (iii) Write a précis of the passage in about one third of its length and suggest a suitable title to it.

Q. 7 Write an essay in about 250 - 300 words on ONE of the following topics:

(i) The importance of English

Outline:

Introduction – as the common language – as an official language – as a language of trade and commerce - conclusion.

(ii) Terrorism

Outline:

Introduction – a form of disease – part played by social system – how to check – conclusion.
