A response should be made to one of the three starting points set out in this section.

Your response to any of the starting points in this section must contain your own 2D or 3D work (this may be specified for particular starting points) along with some written analysis or supporting text.

- 11 Representations of war has been an important theme used by artists to portray people and conflict. Examples are 'We are Making a New World' by Paul Nash, 'The Defence of Sevastopol' by Alexander Aleksandrovich Deineka, 'The Battle of San Romano' by Paolo Uccello, 'Guernica' by Pablo Picasso and 'Après le 11 Sept 2001' by Chéri Samba.

From your research develop one of the following outcomes:

Either: Compare two artists who show different ways of exploring these ideas.

Or: Plan an exhibition of selected works that show war as the main theme.

From your research develop one of the following outcomes:

Either: Make a series of 2D studies that compares the styles or approaches of two artists.

Or: Produce a series of prints, a 3D piece or painted details that explore the theme.

Using one of the following images as a starting point develop the theme in one of the following ways:

Section 4: Applied

- 14 A tourist board has decided to celebrate the myths, legends and folklore of the United Kingdom.

The primary aim of the scheme is to sponsor artists, designers and craftspeople to produce work that will be located in an appropriate situation, using materials and processes in keeping with the theme and potential outcomes.

The brief also requires the artists, designers or craftspeople to propose a suitable location, such as town centres, airports, ports, train and bus stations, country and urban parks, regional tourist attractions and public buildings.

The tourist board will look for the following qualities in the proposed artworks

- location and scale
- materials used in construction or making
- links to the chosen myth, legend or folklore
- creative responses to the theme.

The following images are provided to illustrate existing artwork that has been produced in response to similar briefs.
