

DESIGN & TECHNOLOGY: ELECTRONIC PRODUCTS

+ SHORT COURSE

(1953)

(1053)

New GCSEs for teaching from September 2001

KEY FEATURES OF THE NEW SPECIFICATION

- Covers National Curriculum for KS4 Design & Technology
- Coursework requirement clearly linked to content teaching requirement
- A range of suitable tasks for coursework
- Smart materials and ICT key part of specification
- Immediate teacher support from specialist subject officer
- Short course also available

WHAT CHANGES ARE THERE FROM THE OLD SPECIFICATION?

- Continuity from previous specifications
- Clarifies link between content and coursework guidance
- Coursework assessment pattern clarified and simplified to recognise positive achievement

SUPPORT OFFERED BY OCR

- Full programme of INSET training
- Specimen question papers and mark schemes
- Coursework guidance materials
- Exemplar materials
- Report on the examination, compiled by senior examining personnel after each examination session
- Individual feedback to each Centre on the moderation of internally assessed work

WHAT RELATED QUALIFICATIONS ARE OFFERED BY OCR?

CoA Food Technology	GNVQ Construction and the Built Environment
CoA Graphic Products	GNVQ Engineering (including Part One)
CoA Resistant Materials Technology	GNVQ Manufacturing (including Part One)
CoA Textiles Technology	VCE Construction and the Built Environment
GCSE D&T: Food Technology	VCE Engineering
GCSE D&T: Graphic Products	VCE Manufacturing
GCSE D&T: Resistant Materials	AS/A Level D&T: Product Design
GCSE D&T: Systems and Control Technology	AS/A Level D&T: Systems and Control Technology
GCSE D&T: Textiles Technology
GCSE D&T: Industrial Technology

NEW!

GCSE

Specifications can be found on the OCR website at:

www.ocr.org.uk

For further information or more copies of the factsheets please email dandt@ocr.org.uk or telephone 0870 8706623. Printed versions will be sent out shortly.