Notes for Candidates – Speaking test

NOTES FOR CANDIDATES

As a candidate, you will want to perform at your best. These notes are intended to help you do that. They explain what is involved in the speaking test, how you will be assessed and give advice and guidance to help you prepare for the test throughout your course.

You should prepare your presentation well in advance of the speaking test.

IMMEDIATELY BEFORE THE TEST

You will be given 10 minutes preparation time before your test begins.

During the preparation time immediately before your exam, you can:

- review or make notes on the Speaking Test Notes Form
- use a bilingual dictionary to look up / check words

THE SPEAKING TEST

There are two parts to this Speaking Test:

- Part 1: Topic Presentation (maximum 1 minute) and Discussion (maximum 4 minutes)
- Part 2: General Conversation (maximum 5 minutes)

You cannot use a dictionary during the recording of the test.

PART 1:– Presentation and Discussion

Presentation – (maximum 1 minute)

You should introduce the topic and explain why you want to discuss it, explaining why it is interesting and important to you.

See page 3 for advice on preparing your presentation.

Discussion – (maximum 4 minutes)

In this part of the test your teacher will ask questions about the topic. You will have to give information about the topic, about events connected to the topic and explain ideas and points view (your own or those of others connected to the topic).

Support materials

In Part 1 of the test you can use notes written on the Speaking Test Notes Form and up to 5 visuals or objects to help you discuss your topic with your teacher.

PART 2:– General Conversation (5 minutes)

In this part of the test you will have a conversation with your teacher. Although you will have practised speaking about all the different topic areas in class for this part of the examination you will choose only one. In the exam room your teacher will give you three topics to choose from. These will be different to the topic you chose for your Presentation and Discussion. You will begin to discuss this topic with your teacher straight away.

ASSESSMENT

Each part of the test is worth 25 marks. The total number of marks for this test is 50.

Both parts of the speaking test are marked for:

- Content and communication:
 - information and events linked to the topic
 - explanations of ideas and points of view linked to the topic
- Quality and range of language used
- Pronunciation and intonation

ADVICE ON BOOSTING YOUR PERFORMANCE

- It is important to speak clearly and confidently.
- Marks will be awarded for what you can do.
- You will need to use:
 - a variety of vocabulary
