exam

~~one of the~~

one of ~~the~~ teenagers are doing revision over the weekend he has a chemistry exam, the other teenager has nothing planned, they are talking about a boy called Tom how he missed his bus.

Good

They are speaking spontaneously because they are not speaking formally. Example one of them says "lol".

Here speaking is really of putting because here interrupting and overlapping each other whilst speaking.

This is made to be a conversation, because there's more than one person speaking all about the same subject; how they pulled a joke on someone.

18/4/11

exam

✓ In the Liverpool radio transcript, the subject of the day is 'ealth and saftey, also about Strangers and fire ~~Saftey~~ Safety.

✓ It seems formal being as there is no Slang in the text.

✓ Some understanding shown about the ways in which people speak differently in different situations, and the reasons for this. More detail and exemplification needed.

✓ You have structured the script
clearly and have made a good effort to use realistic vocabulary, showing awareness of the potential audience.

Your ideas are quite effective,
although you need to try to be accurate, particularly with spellings.
