Write your answer to Section C here:

Travel websites can be most helpful for stuff you need to find out about where you are going. Some sites can be good or bad, it all depends what information you get out of it. Some people need different types of information but some need simple information.

When going away, you need to ~~take~~ the right stuff and stuff you really need ex - toiletries - clothing etc. But when going away, there are important rules that need to be followed like if it's by plane, don't take hot drinks unless allowed. Don't play jokes on other people like annoying them and causing trouble.

Every website has different locations you can go to and every location has deals and different prices. Going to Spain can be expensive but may not. When you reach your destination, there are a huge range of attractions and things ^{you} can do like, fun fairs / arcades etc. and there is a wide range of activities like / clubs for kids and adults / museums and loads of other different things.

When people go away its up to them what they think of the holiday things can be good but things can turn bad but ~~but~~ ~~what~~ what's most important is the time and day you get your flight or coach or ~~high~~ train etc. When your at Spain you want to go wild and spend lots of money or just go on the beach and play or Relax you get really nice accomodations there and rooms you have got a wide beach you can ^{stay} ~~stay~~ on all day and enjoy the sun and meet and greet new people and make friends or unless you have family down there ~~th~~ their are really nice restrants Downther and food
