3 Aistrigh an sliocht seo a leanas go Gaeilge.

As we all know, the greatest sporting occasion in the world will take place in Tokyo during the summer, namely the Olympic Games 2020.

The athletes spend thousands of hours of practice and training in preparation for the most important fortnight of their lives.

Sport is a wonderful way to ensure good physical and mental health.

One learns about discipline and about the importance of preparation, training and planning as well as the advantages associated with hard work.

These are skills that young people especially will need as they face the world in the future.

Although I am reluctant to raise this controversial issue, I don't think it can be avoided.

We often hear terribly bad stories about drug abuse and the dishonesty that is associated with sport.

However, it is widely accepted that there are many advantages associated with the Olympic Games. Irish people are given an opportunity to forget their problems and the worries of life, for a short while, at least.
