

Your Guide to Spelling, Punctuation and Grammar in
Edexcel GCSE Geography B (Evolving Planet)

For assessment from summer 2014 onwards

Spelling, Punctuation and Grammar (SPaG) in GCSE Geography B (Evolving Planet)

Why has SPaG been introduced?

In 2011, the Department for Education announced that SPaG would be introduced into the assessment of four GCSE qualifications: English Literature, History, Geography and Religious Studies. In each of these qualifications 5% of the total marks must be allocated to the assessment of candidates' spelling, punctuation and grammar.

Therefore, for GCSE Geography B, with a total of 259 marks, 5% of the total is 15 marks for SPaG. (SPaG marks must be allocated in increments of 3 marks per question).

How has SPaG been applied?

In Edexcel's GCSE Geography B, SPaG marks will be assessed in Sections B and C of Units 1 and 2, and the last question of Unit 3. SPaG is not assessed in Unit 4 (controlled assessment).

Paper/Unit	Section	Question	Raw Mark	Assessment	SPaG Mark
5GB01	B C	Foundation tier - on a 6 mark question Higher tier - on an 8 mark question	78	Exam	3 marks 3 marks Total 6 marks
5GB02	B C	Foundation tier - on a 6 mark question Higher tier - on an 8 mark question	78	Exam	3 marks 3 marks Total 6 marks
5GB03	Question 6	Foundation tier - on a 9 mark question Higher tier - on an 12 mark question	53	Exam	Total 3 marks
5GB04	N/A	N/A	50	Controlled Assessment	N/A
Total			259 raw marks		15 SPaG marks

Marks for Quality of Written Communication (QWC) remain unchanged throughout the GCSE Geography B qualification.

We have allocated SPaG marks across Units 1, 2 and 3 in order to give candidates an opportunity to be rewarded for their SPaG across different elements of the subject, rather than having all of the SPaG marks in just one unit examination. The SPaG marks have been allocated to the question within each section that offers the most opportunity for the use of extensive technical vocabulary and gives candidates an opportunity to demonstrate their writing skills.

When is the first assessment of SPaG?

SPaG will first be assessed in GCSE Geography B in January 2013 (please note this guide refers to SPaG assessment from 2014 onwards). Exemplar questions and mark schemes are available in this guide and further materials will be added on the website www.edexcel.com/gcse2012geographyB over time.

How will SPaG be made clear on the exam paper?

There will be an instruction for candidates on the front cover of the exam paper and before any question that has SPaG marks available. Beneath the question we will indicate how many marks are available for SPaG for that question.

There are examples of how SPaG will be applied to the questions on pages 3-5 of this guide.

Sample questions and mark schemes

The following exemplars provide examples of exam questions with SPaG, followed by the SPaG mark scheme.

Sample exam question with SPaG assessment - Unit 1/Section B (Foundation Tier)

SECTION B: SMALL-SCALE DYNAMIC PLANET

Answer ONE question in this section

Topic 5: Coastal Change and Conflict

If you answer Question 5 put a cross in this box.

Spelling, punctuation and grammar will be assessed in *(c) (ii).

*(ii) Using a named coastline, explain how both hard and soft engineering are used to manage it.

Named coastline _____

(6)

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

(Total for spelling, punctuation and grammar = 3 marks)

(Total for Question 5 = 15 marks)

Teaching and learning advice

Teachers and candidates should note that SPaG is essentially made up of two strands:

a) Spell, punctuate and use grammar accurately

It is likely that many schools will have whole-school policies on literacy and on the marking of students' work for SPaG. Students' levels of ability in SPaG are likely to vary significantly from school to school and some teachers may also find that EMAS and SEN staff have resources and strategies to help certain students.

One aspect of grammar that examiners often comment on is the frequent use of 'would of' and 'should of'. There are also occasional scripts with use of text messaging language and students should be made aware of the need to use formal language in examinations.

Where appropriate, SPaG can form a useful focus for starter or plenary sessions in lessons. Across all units there are key words; some focus on commonly used words will benefit the assessment of some students' spelling. Straightforward activities for students with less-developed literacy could also include the use of anagrams, word puzzles or the deliberate misspelling of words which the student then corrects.

b) Specialist vocabulary

There are key words for each of the examination units so teachers might like to draw up a glossary of key terms for students. Where appropriate, this could form a useful focus for starter or plenary sessions in lessons. One straightforward activity could be students orally explaining key vocabulary without using the term whilst other students have to correctly write down the word.

Teachers and students should also note that using specialist vocabulary often saves candidates valuable time during the examination as well as demonstrating geographical understanding.

'Everyday' words	'Everyday' keywords for geography	Specialist keywords for geography	Place names and case studies necessary ('neccesry') believe ('beleive') independent ('independant') recommend ('reccomend')	vegetation ('vegitation') environment ('enviroment') development ('developement') businesses ('buisnesses')	volcano ('volcanoe') desert ('dessert') hydraulic ('hydrolic') trade bloc ('block')	Britain ('Brittain') Antarctic ('Anarctic') Cairo ('Cayro') Mumbai ('Mumbaye')
This may require a whole-school approach, in collaboration with other GCSE courses e.g. English and History.	Make sure these words are prominently placed in the classroom. Use them as headings for displays or create laminated 'learning mats'.	Have a 'word of the day' written on the board. Plan to provide such coverage for all the keywords of a topic.	Write out names for students, don't just say them aloud. Incorporate map work, so students see the names often.

Note: Teachers and students should note that it is entirely possible that some candidates may achieve a Level 4 mark for their main response, yet only achieve Level 1 or below for SPaG. Similarly, a candidate marked at Level 1 for their main response could still gain full marks for SPaG.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why has the DfE decided that spelling, punctuation and grammar (SPaG) are only to be assessed in English Literature, History, Geography and Religious Studies?

These four subjects have large entries and contain questions that require extended answers. This enables a learner to be assessed on these skills without the assessment of these skills overshadowing their subject knowledge.

How will SPaG be implemented for GCSEs in English Literature, History, Geography and Religious Studies?

The awarding of additional marks for SPaG will affect some externally assessed units taken from January 2013 for English Literature, History and Geography, and from June 2013 for Religious Studies. The additional marks for SPaG will be worth 5% of the total marks for the qualification.

How will question papers indicate to candidates which questions will involve the assessment of accurate SPaG?

There will be instructions above the relevant questions on the papers indicating to students that their spelling, punctuation and grammar will be assessed in that question. They will also be able to see the number of marks available for SPaG for that question.

The assessment of SPaG will be indicated on the front cover of the exam paper, as a rubric and in the question. The number of marks available for SPaG will be indicated both on the front cover and in the question.

Why is a weighting of 5% for SPaG considered appropriate?

A weighting of 5% is considered appropriate as it signifies the importance of these skills but does not assign them so much value that they overshadow subject knowledge.

Will QWC continue to be assessed in GCSE Geography B

Yes, the assessment of QWC (Quality of Written Communication) in the GCSE Geography B qualification remains unchanged.

Will the new requirements for SPaG apply to candidates with special educational needs, dyslexia, or disabilities such as a visual or hearing impairment?

The new requirements will apply to all candidates. Access Arrangements to allow such candidates appropriate opportunities to demonstrate their abilities are administered by the Joint Council for Qualifications.

Further details can be obtained from the JCQ website: www.jcq.org.uk

Will there be any specific accommodation arrangements put in place for EAL learners in relation to SPaG requirements?

No. Learners who speak English as an Additional Language will not be offered additional accommodation arrangements beyond those administered by the Joint Council for Qualifications.

Further frequently asked questions will be added to the website www.edexcel.com/gcse2012geographyB

Edexcel Geography

Your support directory

edexcel

Contact your Geography Subject Advisor

Whatever your query – whether it is about the specification, Schemes of Work or questions about assessment, our Geography Subject Advisor and his team are happy to help.

The Subject Advisor team, led by Jon Wolton, will help to solve your Geography queries and allow you to share ideas with other Geography teachers. You can also provide us with feedback on how we can improve our qualifications, our support and our services.

To talk to a member of the Subject Advisor team call 0844 372 2185 or email Jon directly at TeachingGeography@pearson.com

 Follow Jon on Twitter: @geogadvisor

Keep up-to-date - visit the Geography homepage

Our subject page gives you all the support, news and information available plus a wide range of resources to download.

Share ideas with other teachers – join the Geography Community Forum

Read notices, speak to other teachers, raise concerns, ask advice and download documents and free resources to support your teaching – get the answer you need!

Visit our Geography homepage and follow the link to the Geography Community Forum:

www.edexcel.com/geography

ResultsPlus

ResultsPlus is our FREE online results service that gives you instant and detailed analysis of your students' exam and mock results, helping you to help them more effectively.

Get your free account at www.edexcel.com/resultsplus and get support, information and training along with news on a number of new features.

Training events

Our training events are a great way to meet other Geography teachers, get all the information you need and find out answers to questions about the latest developments in Geography.

Online events also available - book online:
www.edexcel.com/training

Published resources endorsed by Edexcel

To find out more information about published resources that are available to support Edexcel GCSE Geography specifications, please visit www.edexcel.com/resources

Resources endorsed by Edexcel are not a pre-requisite for the delivery of Edexcel specifications.

Find out more about all of these services at
www.edexcel.com/Geography

Pearson is committed to reducing its impact on the environment by using responsibly sourced and recycled paper.