omnigenumque deum monstra et latrator Anubis contra Neptunum et Venerem contraque Minervam tela tenent. saevit medio in certamine Mavors caelatus ferro, tristesque ex aethere Dirae, et scissa gaudens vadit Discordia palla, quam cum sanguineo sequitur Bellona flagello.
Actius haec cernens arcum intendebat Apollo omnis Arabs, omnes vertebant terga Sabaei. ipsa videbatur ventis regina vocatis vela dare et laxos iam iamque immittere funes.

And monstrous forms of gods of all kinds and the barking god Anubis held their weapons against Neptune and Venus and against Minerva. In the middle of the battle raged Mars, engraved in iron, and from the sky the harsh Furies, and rejoicing in her torn robe Discord rushed in, and Bellona followed with her blood-stained whip. Seeing this Apollo of Actium stretched his bow from above; at that terror the whole of Egypt and the Indians, every Arab and all the Sabaeans turned their backs in flight. The queen herself could be seen to call the winds, set sail, and at that very moment slacken the loosened ropes.

At this my father was indeed convinced.
He stretched up to the heavens, addressed the gods and prayed to the sacred star. 'Now, now there is no delay; I follow you, gods of my fathers and, wherever you lead, there I am. Save my household, save my grandson. This is your sign, and Troy is in your power.
I certainly give way to you, my son, and no longer refuse to come as your companion.' He had finished speaking,
