Use the following information to answer Questions 9(c) and 9(d).

Borough of Havant

Tourism is important to the Borough of Havant as the area has lots of attractions and leisure facilities which bring income to the region.

Hayling Island receives more than £50 million in tourism income during a good summer. The island covers only ten square miles and is accessible from the mainland by a road bridge. Its main attraction for visitors is its wonderful coastline, over four miles of it. Part of the beach boasts two European Blue Flags for its high standards of beach and good water quality.

The Borough of Havant encourages high quality tourist accommodation and facilities in any development. In their planning proposals, priority is given for the extension to existing accommodation and additional facilities.

One recent addition to the attractions on Hayling Island on the seafront is the East Hayling Light Railway, a narrow gauge train built for tourists. In its first season of operation it attracted over 20,000 passengers.
