THE APPRAISAL

Your appraisal will be marked according to how well you have analysed and evaluated the success of the process of composing and the outcome of the final completed recording. In your appraisal, you should address the following points:

What Areas of Study did you choose and what is the focus of your composition within the given strand?

Why did you choose these Areas of Study and the particular focus within the given strand?

How did you go about composing your music and how was the final recording achieved?

What difficulties did you encounter during the task and how did you overcome them?

What makes your composition successful in relation to the Areas of Study and the focus chosen within the given strand?

What is the relationship of your composition to its context?
