General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

1(d)	AO2 12 marks, SPaG 3 marks Candidates must underpin their analysis and evaluation with knowledge and understanding. Candidates will be required to demonstrate thorough knowledge and understanding as well as accuracy of religion and belief when responding to the question and in meeting AO2 descriptors. AO2 Arguments for the statement: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Qur'an gives many descriptions of the Day of Judgement emphasising the reward of living a good Muslim life. Muslims will strive to please Allah so they may be rewarded with paradise • Muslims consider this life to be a test in preparation for judgement. Life must be lived in submission to Allah's will in order to fulfill the purpose of life • Following Allah's commands to prepare for Judgement Day unites the Muslim community. This enables all Muslims to live productive, peaceful lives for the good of all. Arguments against the statement: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Allah judges the intentions of the heart, so doing good from fear of judgement is a selfish act and does not honour Allah. Thinking only of your own afterlife reduces the richness and value of this life • Allah is described as just, merciful and willing to forgive mistakes. A Muslim should therefore trust in al-Qadr, believing that Allah knows the future, and not live a life defined by fear of judgement • Muslims should embrace this life and live it to the full, trusting that Allah will judge them fairly on the Day of Judgement, rather than worry about the future. Accept any other valid response. Candidates who do not consider different viewpoints within the religious tradition or non-religious viewpoints (as instructed in the question) cannot achieve marks beyond Level 2.	15
