- 1 Paul Russell is a trader who maintains a full set of accounting records. He divides his ledger into three specialist areas - sales (debtors) ledger, purchases (creditors) ledger and nominal (general) ledger.

REQUIRED

- (a) State one advantage of dividing the ledger into these three areas.

 ..... [1]

- (b) Name the ledger in which each of the following accounts would appear.

(i) purchases account .....

(ii) sales returns account .....

(iii) Sally Opuia (a customer) account ..... [3]

On 1 August 2008 Paul Russell's creditors included Paihia Traders who were owed $950 and Awanui Wholesalers who were owed $630. Paul's transactions for August 2008 included the following:

- August 3 Purchased goods on credit from Paihia Traders, $360, less 25% trade discount.
- 12 Returned goods to Paihia Traders. These were purchased on 3 August, list price $80.
- 18 Paid Paihia Traders the amount due on 1 August, by cheque, after deducting 2% cash discount.
- 22 Awanui Wholesalers sent Paul a statement charging him $15 interest, as the account was overdue.
- 29 Paid Awanui Wholesalers the total amount owing on that date, by cheque.

REQUIRED

- (c) Write up the accounts of Paihia Traders and Awanui Wholesalers as they should appear in Paul Russell's ledger for the month of August 2008.

Where traditional "T" accounts are used they should be balanced and, where appropriate, the balance brought down on 1 September 2008. Where three column running balance accounts are used the balance column should be up-dated after each entry.

 ..... [1]

The following errors were later discovered:

- 1 Goods returned to J Chan, $20, had been incorrectly entered in the account of J Chua, another supplier.
- 2 A cheque for the sale of equipment, $400, had been debited to the bank account, but no other entry had been made.
- 3 Goods for Michael's own use, $100, had been debited to both the purchases account and the drawings account.
- 4 On 15 September 2008, $50 had been received from W Lee. This amount was incorrectly debited to the bad debts account and credited to W Lee's account. W Lee's account had been written off as a bad debt on 30 June 2008.

REQUIRED

- (d) Complete the following table to show the entries required to correct the above errors.

The first one has been completed as an example.

- 5 Salim and Rita Jaffer are in partnership. Their financial year ends on 31 July. They share profits and losses equally. It was agreed that a current account and a capital account would be kept for each partner.

The profit and loss account for the year ended 31 July 2008 showed a net profit of $15 500. The accountant was unable to prepare the balance sheet immediately because of illness.

Salim has very little knowledge of bookkeeping, but attempted to prepare a balance sheet at 31 July 2008. The balance sheet he prepared, containing errors, is shown below.

Balance Sheet at 31 July 2008

	$	$
Premises at cost		95 000
Equipment at book value 1 August 2007		13 000
Stock 31 July 2008		8 200
Debtors		6 600
Drawings - Salim Jaffer	7 700
Rita Jaffer	6 220	13 920
		136 720
Creditors		6 800
Provision for doubtful debts		330
Net profit for the year		15 500
Capital accounts 1 August 2007 - Salim Jaffer	40 000
Rita Jaffer	60 000	100 000
Current accounts 1 August 2007 - Salim Jaffer	3 400 Cr
Rita Jaffer	6 100 Cr	9 500
		132 130
Balancing figure		4 590
		136 720

The following matters were then discovered.

- 1 No adjustment had been made in the balance sheet for the following:

	$
Accrued expenses	620
Prepaid expenses	430
Depreciation of equipment	1500

These items had been correctly recorded in the profit and loss account.

- 2 The bank balance had been omitted from the balance sheet. On 31 July 2008 the cash book showed a bank overdraft of $2900 and the bank statement showed an overdraft of $2200. All the transactions appearing on the bank statement had been recorded in the cash book.

REQUIRED

- (a) Use the space on page 18 to prepare a corrected balance sheet for Salim and Rita Jaffer at 31 July 2008.

The balance sheet should be shown using a suitable form of presentation, showing the different types of assets and liabilities, the working capital and the capital and current accounts of each partner.

The calculation of the current account balances may either be shown within the balance sheet or as separate calculations.

You may use the space below for your workings. (Your answer should be shown on page 18.)

*For Examiner's
Use*

Salim Jaffer suggests that it would be easier to maintain only a capital account for each partner instead of both a capital account and a current account.

*For Examiner's
Use*

REQUIRED

(c) State and explain one advantage of maintaining both a capital and a current account for each partner.
