

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY IN FINANCIAL SERVICES – STAGE-II
ISQ Examination (Summer-2010)

- Q.1 Please write the alphabet of the selected choice in the answer column:
- Q.2 State True or False in the answer column.
- Q.3 Define e-banking. ATM is a popular type of e-banking. Briefly describe ATM network's basic structure and functions. What are the challenges faced by banks in maintaining their ATM network and customer satisfaction?
- Q.4 Choose the appropriate term to fill the blank in the sentences given below:
- Q.5 What do you understand by network topologies? Briefly describe the characteristics of each topology and compare them. Also show various topologies pictorially.
- Q.6 Briefly describe what is a relational database? Which are the other database models? Why is Relational model more popular than other database models?
- Q.7 Describe the "Systems Development" lifecycle highlighting activities performed at various stages.
- Q.8 How do you think Electronic Funds Transfer has brought about a difference in global banking? What are some of the security concerns financial intuitions are facing in this regard?
- Q.9 Why do you think Computer Security Audits are necessary in banking sector? What type of threats are such audits not capable of preventing?
- Q.10 What do you understand by electronic commerce? What are some of the cultural and security issues of concern hindering the widespread use of e-commerce in Pakistan?
- Q.11 What are Search Engines, and how do they work? What difficulties may one face in absence of search engines?
- Q.12 Write short notes on :
- (A) Software Quality Assurance
- (B) Hacking & Hackers
