

Letter

Michael is writing a letter to his friend Maria, telling her about three of his hobbies.

20, long Street,

Rabat.

15th May 2003

Dear Maria

In your last letter you asked me to tell you about my three hobbies. In this letter I would like to fulfil your wish.

I have many hobbies but in this letter I am going to tell you about three of them. They are reading, walking and playing with my dog. The books I enjoy reading most are those written by Enid Blyton. She is my favourite author. I like the adventures and the mysteries best. I read many books, and in fact my parents call me a bookworm. Reading helps me to improve my writing style and my spelling, which is awful at times. I read the whole series of the Famous Five and I was really thrilled. I wish I could bring back Enid Blyton from her resting place so that I could tell her a big 'Thank You'. Of course, there are other authors who I like such as Roald Dahl and Magdalen Nabb.

Everyday I take my dog for a walk. I like this time of the day because walking keeps me fit. I walk from five o'clock to six o'clock in the afternoon. When my parents tell me to go with them to my grandmother (who does not live very far away from our house) I tell them that I don't want to travel by car but I want to go on foot.

My last hobby is playing with my dog. Whenever he comes to me with a toy in his mouth I know that he wants to play. So I throw it away and he immediately runs to grab it. I let him know that I am very delighted with his behaviour, and I therefore give him a treat. My parents and my sister rarely play with him, so he loves me most.

I am going to close the letter because I'm running out of news. I hope to hear from you soon. Please give my love to your mother and father.

Your faithful friend

Michael