Last week a (...1...) swam past the bottom of my road. I live about a hundred yards away from the Thames, in Pimlico, central London, so when the (...2...) came on the radio, I dashed down to the river to take a look.

There were hundreds of people there already, (...3...) their binoculars and clutching flasks of tea. It was rather a cheery, holiday happening – but also, in some way, a (...4...) moment. Parents had brought their children to (...5...) this event of a lifetime.

Peering (...6...) the bridges, we could see that gallant volunteers had waded into the water to try to (...7...) the bewildered creature back downriver. When it became clear she could not do the job herself, they hoisted her onto a rescue (...8...).

I saw the barge come steaming back downstream, heading for the (...9...) of the river. On the deck we could make out the grey, shiny mass of the whale, (...10...) by the volunteers splashing water over it. Could they keep her alive for long enough? Could they make it to the open sea?

Section B.

Student Bounty.com The Earth has existed for about 4.6 billion years. Geologists study the Earth has developed over this time. They divide the time up into Eons; then they divide Eons into Eras and Eras into Periods; and then Periods are divided into Epochs. The diagram below shows a Geological Timescale. In the right hand column, 'MYA' stands for 'Millions of Years Ago'.

Early last century, some ancient Greek writing was discovered, which helped historians to understand the origin of many Greek words. The symbols used are like pictures rather than letters. Each symbol represents a different consonant and vowel sound, so the symbol for the sound 'da' is different to the symbol for 'de':

The symbol  $\vdash$  says da whereas the symbol  $\overset{\sim}{\times}$  says de.

"You know what?" said Major Dexter Smythe to the octopus. "You're going to have a real treat today if I can manage it."

He had spoken aloud and his breath had steamed up the glass of his Pirelli mask. He took off the mask and spat into it, rubbed the spit around the glass, 5 rinsed it clean and pulled the rubber band of the mask back over his head. He bent down again.

The eye in the mottled brown sack was still watching him carefully from the hole in the coral, but now the tip of a single small tentacle wavered hesitatingly an inch or two out of the shadows and quested vaguely with its pink suckers uppermost. Dexter Smythe smiled with satisfaction. Given time, perhaps one more month on top of the two during which he had been chumming up with the octopus, and he would have tamed the darling. But he wasn't going to have that month. Should he take a chance today and reach down and offer his hand, instead of the expected lump of raw meat on the end of his spear, to the tentacle – shake it by the hand, so to speak? No, Pussy, he thought. I can't quite trust you yet. Almost certainly other tentacles would whip out of the hole and up his arm. He only needed to be dragged down less than two feet, the cork valve on his mask would automatically close and he would be suffocated inside it or, if he tore it off, drowned. He might get in a lucky jab with his spear. but it would take more than that to kill Pussy. No. Perhaps later in the day. It would be rather like playing Russian roulette, and at about the same one-in-five chance. It might be a quick, a whimsical way out of his troubles! But not now. It would leave the interesting question unsolved. And he had promised that nice Professor Bengry at the Institute. Dexter Smythe swam leisurely off towards 25 the reef, his eyes questing for one shape only, the squat sinister wedge of a scorpion fish, or, as Bengry would put it, Scorpaena Plumieri.

31.	De	exter Smythe spits into his diving mask (line 4). Why does he do this?	SOLL
	A B C D	This is what divers do for good luck before they dive.  Spit is a way of disinfecting the mask when you don't have any cleaning materials.  His breath has misted up the inside of the mask and the spit will clear this away.  He is alone and so he thinks that it is all right to spit.
32.		hat is meant by "The eye in the mottled brown sack was still watching n carefully" (line 7)?
	A B C D	Dexter Smythe uses a sack to collect fish, and one of these fish is peering out.  The octopus is looking up at Dexter Smythe.  A fish, almost hidden on the dark bed of the sea, is gazing up at him.  The stalks of coral resemble eyes looking out of the brown reef.	2
33.		e tentacle of the octopus "quested vaguely" (line 9). What does this ean?
	A B	The octopus being blind cannot see what it is looking for.  The octopus is being compared to a knight in an old legend going on a quest.  It is as if the octopus is asking questions, even though it cannot
	D	speak. The octopus is looking for prey but isn't quite ready to attack.	3
34.		ok at the sentence "Given time… he would have tamed the darling" nes 10-12). What does this tell us about Dexter Smythe's thoughts?
	A B	He thinks that he needs three months overall to tame the octopus.  He thinks that it takes one month in total to tame the octopus.

- C He wants to tame the octopus so that he can call it "Darling".
- D He thinks that he needs three months overall to tame the tentacle.

35. Why does Dexter Smythe consider that he might "reach down and offer his hand" (lines 13-14) to the octopus?

- A He wants to know how the skin of the octopus feels.
- He wants to see if the octopus will shake his hand.
- C He wants to see if the octopus can tell the difference between his hand and the usual lump of meat.
- D He is curious to know whether or not he has tamed it yet.
