- God reveals Himself in a very special way to Israel and to the Christian.
- He also reveals Himself in a more general way to people who do not know the scriptures.
- He reveals Himself in the following special way:
 - * In the Old Testament He chose Israel to make himself known.
 - * In the New Testament He reveals himself in Jesus.
 - * In the church He reveals Himself through Apostles, Bible writers.
 - * These people are called the instruments of Revelations.
- He reveals Himself in a general way:
 - * To everyone through creation
 - * At all times and to people in every age
 - * In all places, it is not limited to Israel but to people all over the world
 - * Creation, conscience, history

It is inadequate for obtaining salvation. /God could not reveal everything about Himself in this way. / It does not reveal Jesus Christ.

(18)

[60]QUESTION 8

8.1

Sixth commandment

We live in a violent world.

Violence has become more and more acceptable.

As long as people believe their cause is right they feel justified.

They believe that their cause allows them to use violence.

It does not matter whether their cause is right in terms of Christ's teaching.

Both subjects and rulers thus carry out violence.

Examples of violence: murder, abortion, violence on TV, abuse, appalling working conditions, denying people's human rights.

We as Christians need to respond in a positive, Christ-like attitude.

As Christians we should honour all God-fearing authority.

The teaching of the scriptures should thus mould our response.
