AIMS

The aims of the syllabus are the same for all students. The aims are set out below and describe the educational purposes of a course in Literature for the GCE examination.

The aims, which are not listed in order of priority, are to develop the ability of students to:

- communicate accurately, appropriately and effectively in speech and writing;
- understand and respond imaginatively to what they hear, read and experience;
- enjoy the reading of literature and appreciate its contribution to aesthetic and imaginative growth;
- explore areas of universal human concern, thus leading to a greater understanding of themselves and others.

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

Candidates should be able to:

- (i) demonstrate first-hand knowledge of the content of literary texts;
- (ii) demonstrate an understanding of literary texts in ways which may range from a grasp of their surface meaning to a deeper awareness of their themes and attitudes;
- (iii) recognise and appreciate ways in which writers use language;
- (iv) recognise and appreciate other ways in which writers achieve their effects (e.g. structure, plot, characterisation, dramatic tension, imagery, rhythm, setting and mood);
- (v) communicate a sensitive and informed personal response to what is read.

These Assessment Objectives are inter-related and it will not normally be possible or desirable to test them in isolation.

SCHEME OF ASSESSMENT

[May not be taken with Subject 9695, 0486]

One paper (Paper 2010/01) of 2 hours 40 minutes will be set.

Candidates will be required to write on three or four books chosen from the list of prescribed texts.

On each text three questions will be set: one passage-based question and two essay questions.

In the passage-based questions candidates will be asked to read an extract printed on the question paper before answering a question or questions. For each text, one of the essay questions may be an empathetic task (i.e. a directed task requiring the candidate to write from the perspective of a particular character, for example).

The paper will be divided into three sections: Drama, Poetry and Prose.

Candidates must answer four questions in the paper. (Each of these may be on a different text, or alternatively candidates may write two answers on one text.) These questions must be taken from at least two of the sections Drama, Poetry and Prose.

All questions carry equal marks.
