MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2012 series

2056 ISLAMIC RELIGION AND CULTURE

www.tiremepapers.com

2056/01

Paper 1, maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2012 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

(b) Explain the significance of the change in social conditions with the coming of Islam. [10]

•	slow but inevitable change came with acceptance of Islam in all aspects of life	[1]
•	Arabs were used to tribal equality in many spheres of their life; this equality	[1]
	characterised the life of the Prophet and the spirit of early Muslims	[1]
•	lead to the idea of brotherhood [muwakhat] in Medina and towards the whole Muslim community [ummah] hence more cohesion	[1]
٠	Prophet Muhammad gave importance to all individuals regardless of who they were/their tribe/lineage; being a Muslim was good enough	[1]
•	Islam incorporated the ideals of muruwah [courage, patience, endurance] which became universal loyalties to Allah and other Muslims	[1]
•	in cases of retribution individualism was fostered: relatives of a dead man could	[,]
•	punish only his murderer not any member of tribe [which had previously resulted in prolonged inter-tribal warfare]	[1]
•	institution of marriage taken seriously, consent of woman vital, contract made and dowry given; men limited to four wives	[1]
•	thus women in general and wives in particular got status, respect and had a voice	[1]
•	women allowed divorce [khula] and given rights of inheritance from father and husband	[1]
•	nurturing/educating girls was commended by the Prophet as a way to Paradise	[1]
•	usury [riba] was forbidden to prevent monetary exploitation of the weak, a tool of oppression and a means to unjustly take others' money	[1]
•	zakat was made a pillar of Islam, thus obligatory, encouraged to be charitable	[1]
•	vices of drinking, gambling and prostitution were banned	[1]
•	prevalent slavery discouraged; reward from Allah for freeing of slaves	[1]

2 (a) What was the importance of i. Bahira and ii. Waraqah bin Nawfal in the early years of the Prophet's life? [5 x 2 = 10]

(i)	 Abu Talib took the Prophet, aged about 12, on a trading journey to Syria close to the city of Borsa [in Syria] a Christian monk called Bahira invited everyone to a feast insisting all should come the Prophet had been left behind to guard the camels he was then sent for to join them; Bahira saw the seal of prophethood on his back some accounts say Bahira had found the announcement of the coming of Muhammad in the original gospels which he possessed he also said there was a cloud or the unusual behaviour of a branch that kept shadowing the Prophet as the caravan came closer, so he knew Bahira warned Abu Talib not to take his nephew further in case of harm, but send him back to Mecca, which was done 	[1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1]
(ii)	 after receiving the first revelation the Prophet was very frightened, told Khadijah what had happened Khadijah consulted her cousin Waraqah bin Nawfal, a Christian well versed in the scriptures of the Christians and the Jews Waraqah said this was the same Holy Spirit [namus] whom Allah had sent to Moses 'I swear by Him is whose hand is Waraqah's life, Allah has chosen Muhammad to be the prophet of this people. Bid him be brave of heart' the Prophet went back to Hira to complete his days there, then returned to the Ka'aba; saw Waraqah who asked him to describe what had happened; the Prophet told him Waraqah said 'They will call you a liar, persecute you just like they did to others who came with a similar message, they will banish you, fight against you' they will he also said if he lived to see the day he, Waraqah, would support him; but Waraqah never witnessed the persecutions as he died soon afterwards 	 [1] [1] [1] [1] [1]
(b) Hov	w did the experiences of the Prophet's early life mould his character? was an orphan himself so was always caring towards orphans, widows and the	[10]

- living with his uncle Abu Talib made him aware of the importance of family ties [1]
- the suffering and cruelty he had observed during the war [Harb al Fijar] between the Quraish and the Hawazin made him detest fighting [1]

[1]

- the memory of the alliance [Hilful Fudul] to protect the vulnerable in society was close to his heart; this added to his caring nature
- also convinced him of the need for peaceful outcomes to conflicts [Hudaibiya]
- he was aware of the vices of Meccan society all around him despite which he remained upright and earned the titles of the Truthful [as Sadiq] and the Trustworthy [al Amin]
- marriage to Khadijah [who was much older than him] gave him stability and the appreciation of her as a wife, and of women in general [1]

3 (a) Describe what happened the night the Prophet migrated [made hijrah] to Medina and the behaviour of the Quraish at this time. [10]

•	the Quraish knew the Prophet had been encouraging Muslims to emigrate to Medina to avoid further persecution; they guessed he would leave sometime as
•	well so they held a meeting at the Council House [dar al Nadwah] and decided to	[1]
•	participate jointly in killing him	[1]
•	Prophet received a revelation from Allah and was told to leave Mecca	[1]
•	went to inform Abu Bakr about the revelation, then returned home for night to come Prophet asked Ali to occupy his bed that night, and reassured him of Allah's	[1]
	protection	[1]
•	also that Ali should return people's belongings [left with him for safe keeping] next morning	[1]
•	all that night the Quraish watched the Prophet's house, convinced he was inside though his house was surrounded, the Prophet left reciting verses from Sura	[1]
	Yasin [36:9'and We have put a barrier before themso that they cannot see'] and was not seen by anyone	[1]
•	he went to Abu Bakr's house where two camels and provisions were ready for the journey, they left immediately	[1]
٠	instead of going north towards Medina, they went southwards to fool their pursuers	[1]
•	early in the morning the Quraish rushed into the Prophet's house to find Ali asleep in the Prophet's bed; when they asked where the Prophet was, Ali said he didn't know	[1]
•	the Quraish sent search parties to track him, offering a reward of 100 camels	[1]
•	the Prophet and Abu Bakr reached cave of Thawr; he reassured Abu Bakr 'Have no fear for Allah is with us' [9:40] before resuming journey to Medina	[1]
•	search party came to cave of Thawr, saw the spider's web [etc] at entrance, and	1.1
	returned without looking inside	[1]

(b) Why do you think the Prophet was more successful in Medina as compared to the years he lived in Mecca?

[10]

- in Mecca: after the Prophet began preaching, the Quraish' hostility increased because the message of Islam was alien to their beliefs and those of their forefathers [1] the way of life that the Prophet suggested was also an economic threat to the
- Meccans and their wealth [1] Prophet's attitude towards everyone was that of peace; the teachings of Islam needed time to be understood by Meccans [1]
- the Prophet had clan protection during the lifetime of his uncle Abu Talib; attacks on him were restrained; but after his death all chances of success in Mecca were gone [1]
- attacks on the poor Muslims became more vicious, leading to many of them migrating [1]
- by contrast in Medina: the Prophet had been invited to Medina by the warring tribes of Aws and Khazraj to make peace
- Prophet became undisputed ruler from first day
- [1] was a man of great vision; was able to lay foundations of a new egalitarian society that brought peace to the warring tribes [1]
- under his leadership all worshipped freely; churches, synagogues were protected [1]
- made treaties between Jews and Muslims; and between Christians and Muslims [1]
- Prophet was a lawgiver, reformer; when called upon he would decide on disputes [1]

- all residents would defend Medina together, and make peace together
- Muslims practiced Islam without fear; they were united as one ummah, cooperative spirit [1]

5	(a)	Describe how i. Abu Bakr and later ii. Umar were elected Caliph [khalifa].	[10]
		 (i) the Prophet did not nominate a successor; the Ansar, the leaders of the trik of Medina, met to discuss whom they would support as their new leader Abu Bakr was informed of the meeting he, Umar and Abu Ubaidah bin Jar and others rushed to prevent the Ansar from making a premature decision the succession Abu Bakr said Arabs would like 'Amir' from Quraish; Ansar suggested of from Ansar as well; Umar objected; this would create confusion everyone was aware Abu Bakr held the honour of being the one who migra with the Prophet; also asked by the Prophet to lead the prayers when he w ill 	[1] on [1] one [1] ted
		 Umar held the hand of Abu Bakr and said he should be the new leader a took the oath of loyalty [bayat] to him reminding everyone that Abu Bakr v referred to in the Qur'an though not by name [9:40] on becoming Caliph Abu Bakr said'Obey me as long as I obey Allah a His Messenger. When I disobey Him and His Prophet, then obey me not' 	and /as [1]
		 (ii) during his last illness Abu Bakr consulted with his more eminent companies about the nomination of Umar as his successor the companions agreed Umar was the best person, but voiced their concerabout his severity of character Abu Bakr reassured them that the burden of office would make Umar milligust as it had made him [Abu Bakr] tougher after this meeting he proposed Umar as his successor, this was put before an assembly of the Muslims for their oath of loyalty Umar said 'Brethren, it has come to my notice that the people are afraid of they say that he [Umar] has become the Caliph now, God knows how h he will be. Know ye brethren that you will feel a change in me. - the Caliphs lived simple lives of great integrity; nothing austentatious
- the Qur'an and sunnah were their guide; these provided the standard of their moral conduct and inspired their actions
- Treasury [baitul mal] not considered property of the Caliph; he received a salary, the amount was fixed by the shura
- they did not rule like despots; the Council of Advisors [majlis-e-shura] gave advice to the Caliph on all kinds of administrative matters e.g. on fixation of salaries, appointment of judges, assessment of taxes etc
- basic human rights of all citizens were guaranteed; it was an epoch of freedom and equality
- Caliphs endeavoured to implement a welfare state which would promote brotherhood, prosperity, equality, without differentiation or discrimination
- having lived in Mecca where early Islam was not tolerated they were always conscious of other faiths and tolerant of non-Muslims; their places of worship were protected

- observing these rules protects the reciter from making mistakes in recitation
- this ensures that the meaning of the Qur'an is not changed
- early Arabs were not literate so preserved their histories by memory alone, hence the memorising of verses of the Qur'an was undertaken by many [1]

- written Arabic during early years of Islam was very basic; great importance was given to reciters [qurra] who were often Qur'an memorisers [hafiz] [1]
- in any question about pronunciation of a word, the reciters were a better source than written suras
 [1]
- memorization/recitation was also considered more secure as it could never be lost [1]
- reciting is an act of worship, 'And recite the Qur'an in slow measured rhythmic tones with thy mind attuned to its meaning' [73:4] [1]
- Muslims are meant to listen as they are hearing the words of Allah
- verses recited in daily congregational prayers [salat], in remembrance [zikr], and in Ramadan [during tarawih]
 [1]
- despite mass production of Qur'an and translations, recitation and reciters still hold a unique place of honour in the Muslim world [1]
- teachers are given accreditation [ijazah] to impart their knowledge of tajweed to others

11 (a) Write what you know about the first pillar of Islam, the Declaration of Faith [the kalimah]. [10]

• • • • • •	There is no god only Allah [la ilaha ill'Allah] and Muhammad is His messenger [Muhammad ar'rasool Allah] first part is the belief in the Oneness of Allah [tawhid] the fundamental teaching of Islam second part is the risalah: Muhammad is His Messenger; this is the acceptance that he is Allah's messenger/prophet the person saying it bears witness to the truth it is conveying to become a Muslim this needs to be said with total sincerity the kalimah is the essence of Islam also known as kalimah tayyabah [meaning purity], a person becomes purified from disbelief when saying this it describes the relationship between Allah the Creator and the created it is said that the whole Qur'an is an explanation of this one statement it is an active statement, repeated by Muslims many times in formal worship [salat] and in the call to prayer [adhan] each day Muslims need to profess this belief while acting and living their lives in accordance with its requirements	 [1]
•		[1]
•	a true Muslim is one who is completely aware of the meaning of the kalimah and	[,] proclaims it with sincerity and devotion	[1]

(b) Choose one of the following: obligatory prayer [salat], fasting [sawm], zakat or Hajj and consider how important it is to a Muslim. [10]

Obligatory prayer [salat]:

praying 5 times a day: fajr, zuhr, asr, maghrib, isha; is a gift from Allah; considered as the foundation of Islam; a Muslim is closest to Allah when touching forehead to ground [sadja] which signifies total submission; salat is an expression of thankfulness; it purifies the heart, cultivates the conscience and comforts the soul obligatory fasting for the whole lunar month of Ramadan; from before dawn till sunset; intention [niyyah] to fast must be made clear that the action is undertaken in obedience to Allah's command; Muslims fast to please Allah and seek His grace; teaches patience self restraint, awareness of the plight of the poor and sharing; good for the soul and the body.

Fasting [sawm]

Zakat :

is a duty enjoined by Allah undertaken by Muslims in the interest of society as a whole; literal meaning is 'purity', purifying dues 2.5% [minimum] given on wealth that remains In possession for a period of one year; distributed among due beneficiaries and others; spiritual significance is greater: purifies the heart of the giver of greed and selfishness and the heart of the recipient from envy and jealousy.

	GCE O LEVEL – October/November 2012	2056	01

is a duty man owes to Allah, once in a lifetime if financially and physically able, and if there are no insurmountable hindrances; commemorates rituals observed by Abraham and Ismail; the assembly at Arafat is a reminder of the Day of Judgement; it confirms the commitment of Muslims to Allah and their readiness to forsake material interests in His service: Iabbaik Allahumma Iabbaik, Iabbaik Ia sharika Iaka Iabbaik, innal hamda wan'nimata Iaka wal mulk, Ia sharika Iak is the constant refrain before Hajj; Allah forgives the sins of those who perform the Hajj; Hajj demonstrates the universality of Islam, brotherhood and equality of Muslims.

12 (a) What rules were followed by Hadith scholars/collectors in deciding which Hadith were sahih? [10]

•	collecting Hadith was a rigorous scholarly discipline that had begun during the lifetime of the Prophet	[1]
•	each hadith has two parts: chain of narrators [isnad] and the text [matn]	[1]
•	both had to be verified	[1]
•	in the chain of narrators/transmitters [isnad] it had to be verified that they actually met each other	[1]
•	the chain had to be unbroken [continuous] and go back to the last person who was	ניו
•	a companion of the Prophet [who obviously heard the Prophet speak those words]	[1]
•	the character of the narrators was also under scrutiny, that they were pious	[1]
•
•	and known for their honesty in every sphere of life	[1]
•	that they had an excellent memory and had reported the Hadith just as they had heard it, not used their own words	[1]
•	narrators/transmitters should have been of an age when they had a good understanding of what they were reporting	[1]
		ניו
•	the language of the text [matn] should be in pure Arabic style; the language that the Prophet would have used	[1]
•	it should not be in conflict with the Qur'an or other similar Hadith	[1]
•	nor be in conflict with other Hadith on same subject	[1]
•	it should not be contrary to reason or common sense	[1]
•	nor should it be against historical facts or talk of events that took place after the
	Prophet's lifetime	[1]
•	not favour any group or tribe	[1]
•	must not offer a big reward for a small action or vice versa	[1]

(b) Why do Muslims need to know about the Prophet's Hadith and his actions [sunnah]? [10]

 what the Prophet said, did and by what he approved is second in importance to the Qur'an Allah Himself directs Muslims in the Qur'an 'Say, "Obey Allah and His Messenger", but if they turn back Allah does not love those who reject faith' [3:32]; 'Obey Allah and obey the Prophet' [64:12] Prophet said 'I leave with you two things. If you hold fast to them both you will never be misguided: the Book of Allah and my sunnah' Hadith are important sources of explaining teachings of the Qur'an in more detail how to pray is stressed in Qur'an but details of how this is done are found in the Prophet's words recorded in Hadith details of zakat, Hajj and fasting during Ramadan also from the Hadith Prophet laid down principles [shariah] regarding every aspect of life: buying, selling, contracts, leases, inheritance which is all part of his Hadith companions of the Prophet remembered and wrote down his sayings, realising these were a precious source of guidance for Muslims [hence all the Hadith literature] during his lifetime the Prophet asked his companions to make knowledge of his Hadith widely known but take care nothing was falsely attributed to him this was made clear in the Farewell Address 'He who is present here shall carry this message to the one who is absent' Muslims turn to the actions [sunnah] of the Prophet to emulate him. By doing this they hope their actions are acceptable to Allah
