- 1 Anger over British control of parts of the sub-continent had been growing over many years during the first half of the nineteenth century. The introduction of the Doctrine of Lapse was especially hated by the Indians.

(a) What was the Doctrine of Lapse? [4]

Reward each correct statement with 1 mark. 2 marks can be awarded for a developed statement. Candidates may refer to:

G-G Dalhousie is most associated with it (accept statements that he introduced it because most books incorrectly assert this), extended British control, when a ruler died without a natural heir the British would annex his lands, e.g. Oudh.

(b) Why was Britain so successful in expanding its control of increasing parts of the sub-continent between 1750 and 1850? [7]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1

They were better fighters.

LEVEL 2: Identifies reasons. 2–4

They captured rich lands and had a better army.

LEVEL 3: Explains reasons. 5–7

The battles of Plassey and Buxar gave the British the vast riches of Bengal and favourable trading rights with the local nawabs. This provided massive new resources which the British could use to consolidate its control. The British also introduced governors-general into the provinces who administered them on British lines and provided yet more control. The East India Company army using its vast local resources and superior weapons and skills were increasingly taking control of more land. Weakness of Mughal Empire. Princely rulers divided, some cooperating with the British.

(c) Was the work of Shah Wali Ullah the most important factor in the revival of Islam in the sub-continent during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries? Give reasons for your answer. [14]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1–2

SWU was a great scholar.

LEVEL 2: Description of SWU or other factors. 3–6

SWU taught at the madrassa in Delhi, spent some time in Medina and wrote a number of books. SA was a follower of Shah Abdul Aziz and founded the Jihad Movement. He attacked Sikh forces capturing Peshawar. HSU established the Faraizi Movement.

LEVEL 3: Explains 1 factor. 7–10

LEVEL 4: Explains 2 or more factors (SWU to be included for max marks). 9–13

SWU felt that Muslims faced many problems because of their ignorance about Islam and the Holy Quran. He encouraged them to concentrate on Quranic teachings and helped them by translating the Holy Quran into Persian which was the main language of the Muslims at that time. His books were designed to spread the principles of Islam amongst the Muslims.

SASB spread Islam through the Jihad Movement, which was to become an armed struggle to liberate the Punjab and the NWF from Sikh rule largely because Muslims were banned from prayer while other regulations made it difficult to practise their faith. HSU spread Islam through the Faraizi Movement which insisted that Muslims should perform their faraiz (religious obligations). This alarmed some Hindu landlords who were unhappy with Muslim practices. A huge group of followers grew which were called 'Faraizis'.

LEVEL 5: As Level 4 – also produces a judgement or evaluation. 14

2 Strikes and demonstrations caused the British much worry but this increased when rioting and banks were attacked in Amritsar in 1919. The British military commander in the area was determined to restore order.

(a) Describe the Amritsar Massacre. [4]

Reward each correct statement with 1 mark. 2 marks can be awarded for a developed statement. Candidates may refer to:

General Dyer, banning of public meetings in the city, 20000 crowd gathered, Jallianwala Bagh park, narrow entrances etc., no warning, troops fired on crowd, the well, high casualties, further measures followed the meeting, response of Dyer.

(b) Why was the Simla Delegation of 1906 an important turning point for the Muslims of the sub-continent? [7]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1

They got on better with the British.

LEVEL 2: Identifies reasons. 2–4

It led to a separate electorate for Muslims and the formation of the Muslim League.

LEVEL 3: Explains reasons. 5–7

The Muslim demands for separate representation, election by only Muslim voters and weightage in all elected bodies were accepted by the British. This resulted in a sudden upturn in Muslim-British relations and helped to remove the previous bad feelings between the two sides. Also paved the way for demands for a separate homeland with the granting of a separate electorate. Also guaranteed Muslims independent role in the political process and as a result led to the formation of the All-Indian Muslim League later in the year.

(c) Was the abolition of the institution of the caliphate in 1924 the main reason for the failure of the Khilafat Movement? Give reasons for your answer. [14]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1–2

It wasn't very good.

LEVEL 2: Description of the Movement/identifies factors. 3–6

Gandhi withdrew his support because of the Chaura Chari incident.

LEVEL 3: Explains at least one factor. 7–10

LEVEL 4: Explains at least two factors (abolition of caliphate to be included for maximum marks). 9–13

Gandhi decided that the Swaraj Movement was becoming too violent (following the Chaura Chari incident) and so called off his support. In 1920 the Muslim migration (hijrat) to Afghanistan took place. The Muslim League opposed this as they wanted Muslims to stay and fight for their cause. The migration was a failure. The Afghan government was hostile to the migrants who on their return found their homes and jobs occupied, which dispirited the Muslims. Finally the new Turkish government under Kemal Ataturk abolished the institution of the Caliph in 1924, so ending the Movement as Muslims no longer had a cause for which to fight.

LEVEL 5: As Level 4 – also produces a judgement or evaluation. 14

3 A number of conferences were held by the British in London during the early 1930s to discuss the position of Hindus and Muslims in India. One of those who attended such conferences was Chaudri Rehmat Ali.

(a) Who was Chaudri Rehmat Ali? [4]

Reward each correct statement with 1 mark. 2 marks can be awarded for a developed statement. Candidates may refer to:

Studied law at Cambridge University, believed in partition and a separate Muslim homeland, Jinnah didn't yet believe in this, 1933 'Now or Never' pamphlet put his views forward, devised future name of 'Pakistan'.

(b) Why was the Government of India Act of 1935 so important to the future of the sub-continent? [7]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1

It governed India.

LEVEL 2: Identifies reasons. 2–4

More people could vote and there was some provincial autonomy.

LEVEL 3: Explains reasons. 5–7

Some provincial autonomy was granted which meant that every provincial government was allowed to devise and carry out their own programmes and be responsible to their own legislature. This was the first time that this had been allowed and was seen as an important step forward. Ministers in the provinces could have control over all departments except when governors chose to intervene in cases of public order or to veto a bill they disliked. This was a drawback since it meant that the real power lay with the governors. However it did provide additional rights for the local population to vote – some 5 times the previous numbers at 35 million in total. Provisions for a federal government were also established at the centre for the first time which meant that princely states could decide to participate politically in affairs which concerned the sub-continent. However key decisions relating to external relations and defence were retained by the British which was a drawback.

(c) ‘The main reason why Congress rule (1937-39) was so hated was because of the introduction of the Wardha Scheme.’ Do you agree? Explain your answer. [14]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1–2

The Hindus were cruel.

LEVEL 2: Description of Congress rule. 3–6

The Muslims had to sing Bande Matram and observe the Wardha Scheme.

LEVEL 3: Explains at least one factor. 7–10

LEVEL 4: Explains 2 or more factors (Wardha Scheme to be included for max marks). 9–13

Congress Rule was hated by many Muslims for various reasons. Some were abused and some were killed by some Hindus. Hindi was enforced everywhere as the official language and some attacks were made on Muslim worshippers in mosques. Bande Matram, adopted as an unofficial national anthem, had to be sung at the beginning of each day – Muslims felt that it made degrading remarks about them and their faith. The Wardha Scheme was imposed. Under this, students had to bow before Gandhi’s picture each day. Muslims saw this as offensive and some saw it as an attempt to convert them to Hinduism.

- 4 The Lahore Resolution was passed unanimously in 1940 at a conference held by the Muslim League. The Second World War was in progress and the British government sent Sir Stafford Cripps to India.

1942, British wanted support for the war effort, after war India would be given Dominion status, a Constituent Assembly to draw up new constitution, elections for the CA, reaction of Muslims (no Pakistan in plan), Hindus wanted immediate control, post-dated cheque on failing bank, led to 'Quit India' Resolution by Gandhi.

(b) Why was Pakistan faced with a refugee problem in 1947? [7]

LEVEL 1: Simplistic answer. 1

Refugees wanted to live in Pakistan.

LEVEL 2: Identifies reasons. 2–4

Muslims were being massacred in some areas by some Hindus and some Sikhs.

LEVEL 3: Explains reasons. 5–7

Many Muslims wanted to live in a Muslim nation. During 1947, violence between Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs increased dramatically. Boundary Award made the problems worse between the two. Fearful of being killed, many Muslims who found themselves on the Indian side of the border felt they must leave all their possessions and cross into Pakistan to seek shelter, often with few or no possessions. It was argued that India deliberately made difficulties for the new Pakistani government by forcing Muslims across the border. Many Hindus and Sikhs, fearful of reprisals and motivated by the desire to live in a Hindu nation, also contributed to the refugee problem by crossing in the opposite direction.

LEVEL 1: Simplistic statement. 1–2

They haven't.

LEVEL 2: Description of events between 1947 and 1988. 3–6

The Kashmir issue became a problem on partition because it had a Hindu ruler of a population which was mainly Muslim.

LEVEL 3: Explains successes. 7–10
OR
Explains failures.

LEVEL 4: Explains successes and failures.

9–13

Successes:

A cease-fire was arranged in January 1948 leaving Kashmir divided between India and Pakistan. From 1949 an official cease-fire line was agreed between India and Pakistan and was to be patrolled by UN troops. Pakistan kept up pressure on India by appealing to the UN whenever Indian moves tried to integrate Indian-occupied Kashmir into India. In 1957 the UN reconfirmed that Kashmir was a disputed territory and that a final solution should be settled by a UN-supervised plebiscite. India promised to hold a plebiscite in Kashmir to determine its future.

Failures:

War on at least 2 occasions between the 2 countries. Plebiscite still not been held. Continues to be a source of conflict between the two nations.

LEVEL 5: As Level 4 – also produces a judgement or evaluation.

LEVEL 3: Explains reasons.

5-7

There were a number of Prime Ministers between 1956 and 1958 and it reached a stage when Ayub Khan achieved that status that he felt the army should take control until stability had been restored and questions answered. East Pakistan's politicians wanted more say in the running of the central government which increased tension.
