Teacher's Text

Peter Spiteri finished secondary school when he was sixteen. He did well in his final exams but he did not want to continue with his studies. He wanted to make money so that later he would buy a new car. He started working with his father Michael, in his fruit and vegetable shop. Peter was soon making a lot of money, but the work in his father's shop was very hard.

Two years later he decided to study again. In his free time he enjoyed working in his father's fields so Peter decided to study agriculture. He wanted to become a farmer.

After finishing his studies, Peter was soon growing his own different fruits and vegetables, including tomatoes, strawberries and green peppers which he sold in his father's shop. He continued working very hard. In less than two years, he had enough money to buy a beautiful new car.

So Ann suggested sharing with me €20 that her father gave her for doing the gardening. In the end we decided to go to a beach party which is going to be held there at 8pm. For the party, Ann wants to wear a blue top and white trousers but white is not a good idea for the beach. So she will wear jeans. I am going to wear jeans and a red t-shirt. Ann will give me her red scarf and I will give her my bracelet.

Tom: So, Saturday is planned. What about Sunday?
