Last Monday, Libin woke up with many red spots on her body. She was shocked! She ran to her mother as fast as she could. Mrs Tan examined her carefully. “ I think it is chicken pox,” she said.

Mrs Tan brought Libin to the doctor. She was right. The doctor told Libin not to worry. He told her to take the medicine and stay indoors for two weeks. Libin felt better when she woke up the next day. She did not like the red spots on her body. She thought they looked ugly and was worried that her friends would laugh at her when she returned to school.

On the third day. Mrs Tan gave Libin a card. It was from her classmates who missed her. Libin was surprised. “Get well soon, Libin!” she read the words happily. She could not wait to see her friends again.

Answer the questions carefully. Write in complete sentences.
