It was a windy Tuesday evening. Annabel was busy working on her English project. She must complete it and hand it to Mr Chan the next day. Suddenly, the lights went out and there was total darkness in her bedroom. Annabel screamed loudly as she dropped her pencil on the floor. She was both frightened and shocked as she was alone at home.

Annabel looked out of the window. The neighbourhood was very dark. She realised that it was a blackout. Annabel remembered that her mother had placed the torchlight in the kitchen a few days ago. She quickly went out of her bedroom. She had to feel her way to the kitchen to get the torchlight.

"I found it!" exclaimed Annabel. She calmed down a little after switching on the torchlight. She held it tightly in her hand while finding her way to the living room. She called her mother who was at work. She told her mother about the blackout and asked her to return home quickly. She then took the torchlight and huddled it to bed.

53. On which day must Annabel hand in her English project?

54. Why did Annabel scream?

55. Where was the torchlight kept?

56. How did Annabel contact her mother?

57. Which sentence in the passage tells you that it was not easy for Annabel to get the torchlight in the dark?
