“We should not go to the field as it was raining heavily this morning,” said Gabriel. Then, Danny suggested playing at the void deck instead.

The boys had a wonderful time playing soccer. Just as everyone was feeling excited, Danny passed the ball to Gabriel who lost control of the ball. The ball went flying and hit the light bulb on the ceiling. It broke into many pieces.

When they reached the canal, the boys threw their lines in. As they were having fun, it started to drizzle. Ryan persuaded the others to stay put. Soon it poured and the water level in the canal rose.

Suddenly, the boys heard a loud cry. They turned their heads and saw Ben struggling in the water. They tried to help Ben but the current swept him away. Frantic, Ryan ran to get help.

Luckily, a policeman spotted Ben clinging to a big and sturdy broken branch that was lodged at the side of the canal. Cautiously, he made his way to Ben and pulled him to safety.
