“Barney! Billy! Bobby!” called Mrs Fox. “ Come and sit down. We have something exciting to tell you.”

The three little cubs ran over to their mother and father.

‘Now, “ said Mr Fox, “ We’re going to take you to town. It is a place where people live. Unlike us, they move around on two legs. Stay away from them for they are dangerous to us. We’re going to town because the food there is very good – the best in the world. Now, let’s go!”

The foxes went through the woods, over the bridge and into town, they saw many small buildings and Mr Fox explained that those were homes for the people.

Suddenly, they heard a loud, roaring noise. Mr fox shouted to trembling cubs to hide in the grass. Then he explained, “ Those are cars. You must always keep away from them because they are very dangerous.”

Together, they tiptoed carefully into the garden and saw three big wonderful dustbins! Mr fox instructed them to tip over the dustbins, eat all they wanted but to run and hide if people came along. Mrs Fox added that people were funny because they threw away such delicious food!

After the sumptuous meal, they went to sleep behind some bushes in the garden. When they woke up, they saw a girl and a boy by the dustbins. “ What a disgusting mess! We’d better clear it up,” said the girl.
