Read the passage carefully and answer questions 38 to 42 (10 marks)

Long ago, there were two brothers who had a dream. Since young, they had read many books about flying because they wanted to fly. When the brothers became young men, they had a bicycle shop. They repaired and sold bicycles.

One day, the two brothers made a simple airplane without an engine. They called it a glider. The glider could go up into the air. However, it could not fly very far. Thus, the brothers decided to build an engine for it.

After many months of hard work, the two brothers went to a place called Kitty Hawk. They were ready to fly the improved glider. Some people gathered at the open space to watch the brothers do that. They did not think the airplane could even take off.

However, the people were wrong. The brothers were able to fly the glider over a short distance. They were most encouraged by their success. Finally, they had fulfilled their dream of flying. Soon, news spread, and the two brothers became famous in their hometown.
