SPANISH S102C Spanish Narrative, Essay and Drama: 1920-1936

Candidates should answer TWO questions

Essays may be written in either Spanish or English, but no extra credit will be given for answers in Spanish.

Candidates should not base more than ONE answer on a particular work.

Candidates should not base their answers on any text or texts used extensively in their course-work essays.

1. 'Toda la obra está llena de contrastes.' Discuss this verdict on Luces de Bohemia.
2. In 1926 a British reviewer of La deshumanización del arte suggested that in this work Ortega y Gasset regarded the 'New Art' as just a 'game' that was lacking in social and artistic seriousness. To what extent is this a fair criticism of Ortega's essay?
3. 'San Manuel Bueno, mártir es un ataque contra la Iglesia; más aún, contra la religión.' How far do you agree with this assessment of the novel?
4. EITHER (a) 'The ultimate power of Lorca's drama lies not in any single Spanish quality but in its universality.' Discuss with reference to AT LEAST ONE of the plays by Lorca studied on the course.

OR (b) Lorca stated: 'Sin sentido trágico no hay teatro.' Compare the ways in which the sense of tragedy reveals itself in ANY TWO of the Lorca plays studied.
5. Compare the ways in which ANY TWO of the following authors address social issues in their works: Valle-Inclán, Unamuno, García Lorca.
6. Discuss the artistic AND/OR thematic importance of the narrative or dramatic structure of AT LEAST ONE of the texts studied.
7. 'Toda obra literaria pertenece a un género, como todo animal a una especie.' Discuss the ways in which ONE OR MORE of the prose works or dramatic works you have studied cross the boundaries of genre and therefore contradict this observation.
8. 'Theatre is not concerned with reality, only with truth' (Jean-Paul Sartre). Discuss with reference to AT LEAST ONE of the works of drama studied on the course.
