ENVS1343 Planning History and Thought

Answer any two questions from six

1. Critically discuss the reasons for the existence of town planning as they were promoted and considered in the period 1900-1932.
2. With reference to two illustrations of your choice, consider the contribution of the 19th century industrial philanthropists' model villages to the birth of the Garden City movement.
3. Outline and review the contribution of the various UK wartime reports of 1937-46 on the development of the modern planning system.
4. 'The new towns constructed after 1945 failed miserably because they were too utopian in their design and intention'. Critically discuss.
5. Review the reasons for the development of the conservation and heritage movement in the 1960s, and comment on the appropriateness today of protecting post-war modernist buildings from the threat of demolition.
6. Reflecting on history, critically discuss the reasons and justification for planning to exist today as a state function.
