Conflict, Migration and Human Rights Examination Paper 2006 (IHME3003)

Please answer THREE questions only from the following TEN questions listed. Each question on this paper is worth the same number of marks.

1. Choose one of the Fundamental Principles of the Red Cross. Discuss, with reference to examples, whether it has driven or limited humanitarian intervention
2. "Rape is a weapon of war". Using specific examples, explain the steps taken by the international community to address this problem.
3. Discuss the need for and prospects of UN reform.
4. What are the most important public health needs in situations of mass displacement and how are responses implemented?
5. How does the promotion of Human Rights in situations of armed conflict highlight many of the divergences between the human rights and humanitarian communities?
6. Without addressing the global issues of violence and conflict, the Millennium Development Goals will not be achievable. Discuss with reference to specific examples
7. "The international community failed in its attempts to prevent and mediate in a number of conflicts during the 1990s". Discuss with examples from one or more of these conflicts.
8. What impact has the notion of 'Human Security' had on the discourse about refugees and internally displaced people?
9. "Soldiers, Wives, Cooks and Spies". How accurately does this describe women's roles in situations of armed conflict? Illustrate your argument with examples.
10. "Post-conflict and post-disaster relief should include immediate aid for the body and mind at the same time." Critically assess this statement with reference to one or two relevant examples.
