You have three hours to complete this paper.

You must answer three questions in all.

Question 1 (Section A) is compulsory.

Two further questions must be answered from Section B.

Each question carries equal marks.

Please read the questions very carefully and be sure to answer the question asked.

Section A

1. *Watch the following 5 minute film clip from "The Doctor"
This will be shown to you at the beginning of the exam.*

Next, read the following essay question:

Discuss the portrayal of medicine in the film clip.

Now watch the film clip a second time.

Plan your answer and start writing.

Section B

2. Discuss critically the ways in which the cinematic portrayal of EITHER Dr. Frankenstein, OR Dr. Jekyll differ significantly from their original fictional characterisation? What filmic techniques are used to impress these portrayals on the viewer's mind?
3. Critically discuss the claim that all cinematic representations of doctors portray them as socially irresponsible individuals.
4. Critically discuss the claim that cinema accurately reflects society's changing perceptions and expectations of doctors.
5. With reference to at least two medical films with which you are familiar, critically discuss the cinematic portrayal of gender relations amongst health care professionals.
