Exam Questions

You have three hours to complete this paper.

You must answer THREE questions in all: answer QUESTION ONE and TWO OTHERS. Each question carries equal marks.

Please read the questions very carefully and be sure to answer the question asked.

All students must answer QUESTION ONE:

1. Watch the 4 minute film clip from Dr T and the Women (2000).

Read essay question: Discuss the representation of doctors and patients in this clip.

Watch the clip a second time. Plan your answer, and start writing.

Answer TWO of the following questions:

2. In what ways does the cinematic portrayal of EITHER Dr. Frankenstein OR Dr. Jekyll differ significantly from their original fictional characterisation? What filmic techniques are used to impress this portrayal on the viewer's mind?

3. Do you agree with the argument that movie makers have a responsibility to portray doctors and medicine truthfully? If not, why not? Discuss with reference to at least 2 films from the course list.

4. With reference to at least two films from the course list, discuss the cinematic portrayal of gender relations in medicine.

5. Discuss the representation of difficult medical-ethical choices in at least two films from the course list.
